MENDAYE Franco-Spanish border, April 22.—Fresh Spanish government successes in the Pyrenees battle zone near the Franco-Spanish frontier were claimed by Barcelona today while fierce fighting progressed along the Mediterranean coast.

A government communique stated its troops recaptured the Pyrenean valleys of Alm and Mallols, west of the tiny republic of Andorra, and that insurgent forces also were dislodged from a number of hill positions in the Tremp hydro-electric sector.

From Salamanca, an insurgent announcement said the forces of Generalissimo Francisco Franco were driving south along the eastern coast in their campaign to capture the ports of Castellon and Valencia.

Reach New Line

The advancing Insurgents were said to have reached a new line near Alcala De Chivert only 25 miles from Castellon De La Plana. Resisting government troops were "heavily punished," the communique said.

The Insurgents also claimed that the government defenses of Madrid were still crumbling slowly under a series of artillery and infantry attacks.

PA NEW OBSERVES

O. Penfield Fox, city forester, states that he often receives communications from other cities, who have seen in the "news" mention about the parks of New Castle, asking about our park system. Two of these were from Meadville and Jamestown, N. Y.

On the lawn of the Bogies property, near the court house, there is a large lilac bush with lots of flower buds ready to burst forth into bloom.

It was announced today at the city treasury that the two weeks collection from parking meter cash boxes amounted to $303.50. It represented the largest collection for any two weeks period since installation of the parking meters. According to police, pre-Easter traffic caused the increase.

Talking about plus tobacco, a greener stated yesterday that he has had only three calls for plug tobacco in the last four years. A lady in the store said her grandpa used to chew "J. T."

Parked on the Diamond we saw an Ohio automobile minus the front license plate in its regular place. It was fastened to the windshield.

Overcoats were much in evidence again this morning.

John Hartzell of Rebecca street caught a large rainbow trout in the Shenango river near the water works, Thursday.

Father Of Dionnes Asks For Probe Into Supervision Of Quints

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 22.—The father of the five most famous little girls in the world today demanded a judicial report on the management of their lives and their fortunes by their physician and guardian.

Olivia Dionne has occasionally been critical of Dr. Allan Roy Daffoe's insistence that his quintuplet daughters spend their early years apart from the rest of the family in their own combination house-hospital. He has sometimes rebelled against the idea of provincial guardianship for his famous daughters.

Asks Official Probe.

But today he had gone all the way in his rebellion and through Henri St. Jacques, Ottawa lawyer, asked the attorney general's office of the province for official probe into the stewardship of Daffoe, Judge J. A. Valin and Percy D. Wilson—the latter official guardian representing the province.

Dr. Daffoe at Galtland was not disturbed by the report of Dionne's action.

"I'll stand on my reputation and past record," he said and added, "this is all old stuff anyway. These things were all brought up a year or two ago and nothing ever came of it."

Judge Valin, chairman of the guardianship board, is responsible for these matters but it's immaterial to me if they want to bring in my name.

Dionne is himself a member of the board of guardians but has never taken part in its activities.

He asked that the probe cover the early guardianship of the quintuplets as well as the present guardianship and he set up several particular allegations.

Kept From Parents.

Among them are that the quintuplets have been kept from their parents and the latter kept away from the nursery as much as possible, that (Continued On Page Two)

GOES TO BUTLER COUNTY FROM HERE

Judge Arthur H. James, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket, spent the night here on his way from Clarion to Butler county, where he is spending today in the interests of his campaign.

Judge James was greeted by a large delegation in Clarion county yesterday, and states that he is extremely gratified to note a change in attitude which is a swing away from the New Deal and its policies.

Through a coincidence the paths of Judge James and those of Samuel S. Lewis, candidate for lieutenant governor, crossed here. Judge James was enroute south as Mr. Lewis was enroute north, and they spent the night under the same roof at The Castleton, unaware of each other's presence until this morning, when they greeted each other. Their meeting is of no significance, it is stated, as each is waging an independent campaign for the office he is seeking.

After greeting friends here briefly and conferring with the leaders of his campaign, Judge James went on to Butler, where he is speaking today. Judge James states that he is more than pleased with the reception he has received in the western part of the state.

The banquet group, for which 255 reservations have been made, will take dinner at 7 o'clock. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is the banquet sponsor.

Out of Pittsburgh will come a private train over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad this afternoon, bringing one of the most distinguished delegations of industrialists, bankers, railroaders and operating heads of plants ever to visit the city in one group.

The train will move into the East Side yards of the P. & L. E. about 5:45 o'clock.

Will Greet Visitors

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, President Presley N. Jones of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, county officials and heads of industrial plants here will be at the siding to greet the visitors.

Private automobiles have been engaged to meet the party of officials at the train. Until the 7 o'clock dinner, most of the group will be in seclusion, it was learned.

At The Castleton eleven-hour plans had been completed for the banquet which will draw industrial leaders and public men of prominence from all over this area.

Details Complete

Chairman H. Gill Brown of the Junior Chamber's banquet committee said that "every final arrangement has been made." Because the banquet hall will not accommodate the entire 255, an overflow group will be served in the crystal ballroom. When the program commences that group will move into the ballroom.

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the dinner invocation. During dinner soft music will rise from the electric organ placed in the dining hall.

The toastmaster will be the Hon. W. Walter Braham, president judge of Lawrence county.

President Jones of the Junior Chamber will deliver the address of welcome to the banquet host and Mayor Charles E. McGrath will present Mr. Fairless, the honor guest, with a handsome key to the city.

To Speak Briefly

Mr. Fairless and John L. Perry, president of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, the largest operating unit of U. S. Steel, will be seated together at the speakers' table and will be introduced. Both are scheduled to make brief remarks.

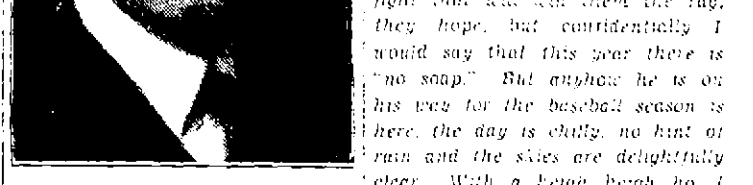

Guest numbers during the banquet are to be given by The Richlanders, a quartet of the Highland U. P. church.

Move To Broaden Credit Facilities

Emergency Loans Will Be Provided

Seek To Stimulate Privately Financed Expansion Program For Utilities

DEMOCRATS DENY CHARGES OF G. O. P.

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Moves to broaden the nation's credit facilities, grant stricken railroads emergency loans and stimulate a private-financed expansion program for utilities, entered the administration's $4,512,000,000 recovery drive today.

At the same time, administration spokesmen vigorously denied Republican charges in congress that the new spend-and-learn program threatens the government with an $8,000,000,000 deficit for the next fiscal year, and encompasses a $3,000,000,000 issue of inflationary "greenbacks."

Rep. Woodrum (D) of Virginia high-ranking house appropriations committee in charge of drafting the proposed omnibus recovery bill declared that conservative treasury estimates of the anticipated deficit do not exceed $3,000,000,000, and he dismissed the "greenback" charge as "ridiculous and without foundation."

Meanwhile, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau set machinery into operation to pour $400,000,000 in designated sold into private credit channels in the next eight weeks at the rate of $50,000,000 per week.

Study Proposal

A proposal that the government establish intermediate credit banks to share with banking houses the underwriting of utility stock issues was studied by administration officials as a possible method to stimulate a billion-dollar building program by private utilities.

On another front, the Senate Interstate Commerce committee prepared to draft legislation for immediate enactment, lifting requirements of ICC approval for RFC loans to railroads, in an effort to speed $300,000,000 in loans recommended by President Roosevelt to encourage purchase of rail equipment.

In the house, the appropriations committee was disclosed to have heard testimony from Aubrey Williams, head of the National Youth Administration, that the $75,000,000 for N.Y.A. sought by Mr. Roosevelt will be used to boost the agency's works projects rolls from 150,000 to 300,000 youths and to continue assistance to 400,000 students.

Possibility that congress may move to simplify federal supervision of banks arose when the senate banking and currency committee received the Smathers bill to place inspection and examination under one agency, Ronald Ransom, federal reserve board vice chairman, recently told congress that the existing complexity of bank supervision have tended to freeze bank credit.

A cry that the administration's spending program threatens the nation's fiscal structure and promises record deficits was set up in the house late yesterday by Rep. Taber of New York, ranking Republican on the appropriations committee, as the G.O.P. formally opened its fight on required legislation.

FATHER OF DIONNES ASKS FOR PROBE INTO QUINT'S SUPERVISION

Dionne has not been consulted as to the education of his daughters, that nurses and teachers have been discharged without consultation with the quint's parents, that too much stress has been laid on exhibiting the children to the public.

That it was not the first time Dionne has asked a probe also became known.

As a result of an earlier complaint, Wilson conducted an investigation of specific complaints a month or two ago but no result was announced and the probe was described as unofficial.

The present demand for an official judicial inquiry was made several days ago, Jacques said, but admitted that he has had no reply from the attorney general's department.

Should the request be granted, Jacques plans to question under oath the present and former nurses and instructors at the nursery, Dafoe and the present and former guardians, Dafoe's secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Dionne and others.

The probe will be aimed, it appears, particularly at the financial circumstances attending the popularity of the quint. Through exhibition at the nursery, endorsements, moving pictures, syndicates and other sources, the quint have piled up a considerable fortune which has been administered by the board of guardians for them.

Dr. Dafoe Answers

Boston, April 22.—Dr. Allan R. Dafoe, country doctor who presided at the birth of the Dionne quintuplets, today in an exclusive telephone interview with International News Service and the Boston Evening American, openly challenged Oliver Dionne and Attorney Henri St. Jacques, of Ottawa, to prove charges that he is wasting the babies' money on alleviating their afflictions.

The venerable Canadian, Ontario physician indicated by his tone that his patience was finally exhausted by his numerous disputes with the parents of the children. This is the first time he has openly criticized "Papa" Dionne.

Dr. Dafoe charged that two women are behind the demands for a probe of his care of the quintuplets' health and the administration of their family affairs. Describing them as a former teacher and a former nurse at the Dafoe hospital, he said:

"I got so they were telling me what to do. You know, answering me back and I began to figure out that I was the boss so I undertook to fire them. The two ladies are mad because I told them to get through."

Dr. Dafoe said the two women, after they were discharged, talked with the girls' father and he voiced his objections "pretty strenuously."

Discharge of the two women was discussed at a meeting of the guardians, he said, adding:

"I sent several notices to Dionne to attend this meeting called to consider the charges which I had preferred against the women. He ignored them."

COUNTER CLAIMS OF SUCCESSORS IN SPANISH BATTLES

In the Ustera district was claimed to have been captured by the insurgents.

Fighting Along Coast

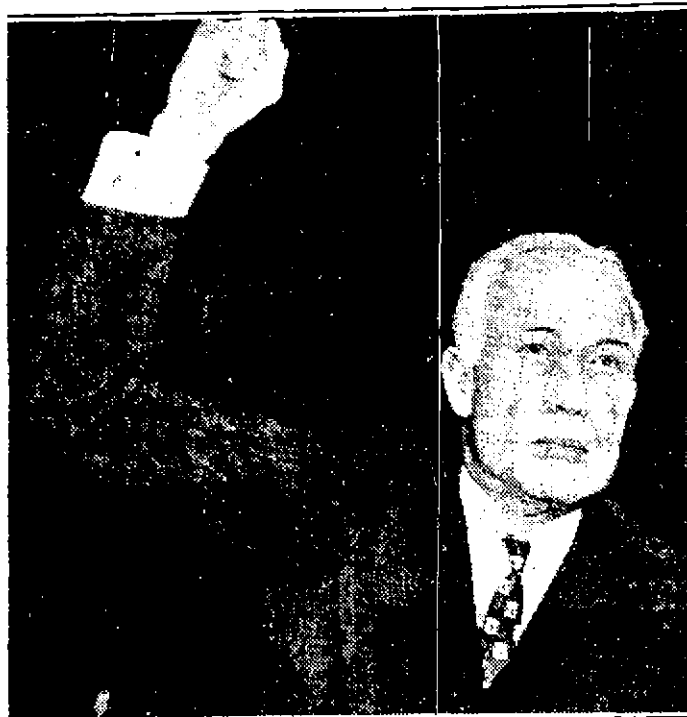

Barceloneta district fighting was raging at several points along the Mediterranean coast and that insurgent attacks against Tirig and Albocacer, further inland, were repulsed.

The government forces, staging a counter-attack, improved their positions at these points and also fought off insurgent thrusts at San Mateo and Salsadella, according to a government announcement. A violent engagement north of Alcala De Chivert also was reported.

Disputing insurgent claims of success on the Madrid front, the government said "several insurgent losses" occurred when two mines were exploded in the west park sector of the former capital. Two insurgent machine gun nests were captured, it was stated, and a number of troops taken prisoner.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—No final decision has been made by the American government on the question of selling helium to Germany in commercial quantities for use in the new German dirigible LZ-130.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE MARINES

From the Halls of Montezuma
To the shores of Tripoli
We fight our country's battles
On the land and on the sea.
First to fight for right and honor.
And to keep our honor clean.
We are proud to claim the title
Of United States Marines.

That is the song of the Marines and they live up to it. The International Settlement at Shanghai has become very quiet since the Marines asserted themselves.

Down in Haiti there are two nations in reality living on one island—the Dominicans—who speak Spanish and the Haitians who speak French patois. From 1804 to 1915 their favorite sport was fighting one another. Then the Marines moved in and they had to quit fighting. Five years ago the Marines were withdrawn and they gradually revived their old pastime. This war became so serious that about 11,000 were killed. Some of the merchants actually encouraged the fighting in the hope that it would bring the Marines back.

General Farrell, of the Marines, says that on his mission to convince the islanders that they must cease fighting, one merchant in Port au Prince showed him his till, in which there was only a small amount of native money. "When the Marines were here," the merchant said, "it was always full of American money."

"All I had to do," said General Farrell, "was to convince the islanders in both countries that the Marines would have to return unless they came to a peaceable understanding."

And they did.

The World At A Glance

Air Bombing Arouses Horror World Shocked By Recent Events
Restriction Seen As Unlikely

By LESLIE EICHEL,
Central Press Columnist

WILL THE world permit bombing from the air to continue as it has been carried on by insurgents in Spain and the Japanese in China?

Full details of these bombings now are reaching America, and even hardened warriors shudder.

Can a population that has lived through such bombings ever return to normal again? Will they not be shell-shocked the remainder of their lives? And what of the children? Even in the ancient wars and in the middle ages, children were considered apart. Today, there are as many child victims as grownups among civilian populations.

Can any international convention control air bombers? Will nations or insurgents as in Spain—with this horrible weapon in their hands, forever use its use on civilian populations, on large cities? It is not likely. The "war behind the lines" today assumes as much importance as the war at the front. The insurgents were determined to reduce the morale of the Spanish Loyalists, to create such terror that the people would desert their government for the insurgents, in order to obtain peace.

The same has been true in China. But the bombings have had the opposite effect in China. They have amalgamated and intensified the Chinese people. Now Japan is paying the price. The Chinese are more phlegmatic than the peoples of the highly cultivated nations like Spain. In Spain there has been nerve-shattering terror, and yet the Loyalist civilian population, against the overwhelming odds of foreign invaders and with no powers to defend it, has been remarkably courageous.

NO PLACE SAFE

The Japanese and the Spanish insurgents (including Italian and German flyers) are not the only ones to be blamed. The tragedy is that every country may employ the same tactics, with the dreadful new instrument of destruction. Some countries may not desire to restrict.

To indicate the full measure of tragedy, read the excerpt from an article in the New Statesman and Nation, London, by Richard Ellis and Audrey Russell:

"Fourteen planes bombed Barcelona, the fishermen's quarter. A place of no military importance. An infants' school was hit. The number of dead was over a hundred. 86 of them children. Two lorries carried away the bodies.

In the evening we went down to the Hospital Clinic. In the mortuary over 40 bodies, which could be recognized as such, had been laid out. Almost all were women and children. Alongside stood two baskets of limbs and heads which no human ingenuity could piece together. Here a three-year-old had had his shirt pulled to his armpits, leaving his little bare behind him to come out half torn away. About 11, who may well have had a certain grace four hours ago, was hideously sprawled, a flay of scalp grotesquely hiding one long-lashed eye. A little boy's right arm ended jaggedly below the shoulder, and another arm from a child perhaps two years younger had been laid in its place.

"The attendant wandered in, rolling a cigarette. If he could get any help—or perhaps we could spare time to come down in the mortuary. There would be many operations, for more than twice as many would be brought in. They would be of course for bullets, for it was said that many of the children had been machine-gunned by a low-flying plane.

LASTING PEACE?

The question arises, too, whether there can be a lasting peace in countries conquered by such methods.

The big powers are entering "peace pacts" in Europe—recognizing one another's conquests of the present and the past. But what of the peoples relegated to hopelessness?

The new "peace pacts" are more scraps of paper so far as human beings are concerned. They will not explode. Millions of people subjected to a fearful invasion and tyranny some day will rise up.

Italy has no guarantee that the Ethiopians and the Spaniards will remain under her dominion; Great Britain faces great trouble in Egypt and India; France has no assurance she can keep her foothold in northern Africa; and Japan ever subdue 400,000,000 Chinese?

Any treaty that is based on injustice to any large group of people is a guarantee only of one thing—upheaval. Witness the Versailles treaty.

POSSIBLE ANSWER

So oft the heart sick says:
"Why take my love away
And let that monster stay?"

So oft the sorrowing cry:
"Tell us, dear Lord, why Beauty and youth must die?"

Why keep them, their courage gone,
Broken and bleak and wan,
Blanderingly stumbling on?

Groping for answer I Give this as my reply:
"Not all are fit to die!"

(Copyright, 1938, Edgar A. Guest)

THE FACTS speak for themselves. Two years ago the President forced through a then supreme Congress the so-called undivided-profits tax, in-vented by Dr. Ohlpatrick, the Treasury adviser. This tax not only failed to produce the revenue expected but it undermined the safety of the whole corporate structure and particularly endangered small business. Six months ago, when the depression became apparent, there was overwhelming testimony of its causing the President and his cabinet to resign. The President and his cabinet were not only repelled among men capable of understanding what it is very great. It is particularly so among the smaller business men. If it had not been stopped by White House pressure, Congress would have wiped the tax out at the close of its last session.

THIS year, with general agreement that more than any other single thing it prevents the recovery of business, confidence, the House while greatly reducing the tax, at the insistence of the President, retained its "principle." In the Senate, despite the Presidential attitude, the repeal went through without a roll call. Without White House influence, the bill, unquestionably would come out with the main features of the Senate measure intact—that is, repeal of the surplus tax and modification of the capital-gains tax. But Mr. Roosevelt, contrary to precedent, has chosen to thrust himself into the conference committee and in a letter to a member urges the House conferees to hold out for the retention of the surplus tax and against capital gains modification. The arguments he gives are the old arguments: the reasons he gives have been shown unavailing; and the points made for repeal and modification are completely ignored.

THE OUTCOME of the present deadlock which he has thus brought about is pretty vital. Three things can happen. First, the House conferees, subject to pressure, may "stand by the President" and if the Senate members refuse to yield, then there will be no bill, and the present law, with its glaring faults and inconsistencies, will remain in force. Second, the House conferees may yield, despite the President, or the House as a whole may be given a vote on the bill and agree with the Senate. In that case the President would have to sign it.

Welcome Industrialists!

THROUGH the energetic Junior Chamber of Commerce of this city, New Castle today is privileged to act as host to a most distinguished delegation of industrial leaders of the district and nation, a privilege that is most gratifying.

With President Benjamin F. Fairless, head of the United States Steel Corporation, as the special guest of honor, and with a large number of his associates in the steel corporation and the world of industry, here to share in the tribute to industrial leaders, New Castle looks upon the occasion as one most notable in the annals of this industrial city.

It is rather superfluous to say that the citizens of New Castle are glad to bid them welcome. The visit is indeed an honor to the municipality and its residents that is more than appreciated.

New Castle, and its citizens, have a high regard for the men who head the great industries of Western Pennsylvania, the state and nation. Especially at this time is it realized that they are carrying a load that is of large proportions. Hence, the more credit is due, and the tribute that will be paid them tonight at The Castleton the more justified.

These are lean times for many lines of industry, both for employer and employee. But, it is hoped that a better day is dawning, that the state and national legislation that has hampered natural development of independent industry, will be altered, and that proper amends are to be made, which will give a real impetus to business.

With a maze of unfavorable legislation modified, and industry given latitude required, New Castle expects to move forward in step with other areas. The city has many advantages. With guaranteed water supply, with floods practically banished due to the Pymatuning dam development, with exceptional transportation facilities, with abundance of electric power, with a location in the center of the greatest consuming area in the nation, and with many additional facilities holding appeal to industry, New Castle confidently faces the future.

Junior Chamber of Commerce guests of today, come back often!

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

HOW ARE YOU, UNDER PRESSURE?

If you would know what a man is like... in his heart... in his real self.

Then watch him when he is under pressure. When fortune has been good. When he has a head-ache. When his work is not going so well. When his job is slipping away from him. When his pride is hurt. When his wife left him. When he's been an idiot. When life isn't so rosy.

That's when a man is tested. That's when you learn an important truth about him—when he's under pressure.

You and your friend and all the rest of us are like the fellows we remember in the war... the Loud Mounds who went to pieces when the guns began to boom. The Quiet Lads who did their best work when the tension was greatest, and too many others were losing their heads.

You can't always tell in advance how a man will act, in warfare, in economic turmoil, in personal turmoil. You must wait until the pressure of conflict begins to bear down upon him. Then you know, unmistakably, whether he can stand the Gaff.

We can't even know ourselves until we are under pressure, until the strain begins and we strip away the little pretenses and the cheerful optimism and face trouble and temptation. We find ourselves then and unless we have very accommodating forgetteries we never lose track of what we were like under pressure.

It's useful to know what we're like when in time—more useful than money in the bank. If we know we act well under pressure, then we know we have something put away for a rainy day, and it will not fail us.

But it is also well to remember that we do not live the whole of life under pressure. The great emergency comes infrequently. Heroism is not demanded daily of us. We do not live forever on the heights. Ask much of yourself, but if you demand too much of your friends you will be a lonely and disgruntled human being.

WHAT'S WANTED IN HOUSES

People who contemplate owning new houses want a fireplace, lots of closet space, and plenty of electric outlets. They prefer the Colonial design; few care for modern architecture. Specifically, for $8,500 they want more than $2,000 down they want a game room, laundry, vegetable cellar, and automatic heating plant and a porch. On the first floor they want a den, kitchen, large living room, medium-sized dining room, and lavatory. On the second floor they want two double bedrooms, one single, two baths, six closets.

Architectural Forum elicited these wants through a survey.

A METHOD OF APPROACH

One day Dwight Morrow, and his wife, were in the town of Rugby, in England. After wandering through the streets, they realized that they had lost their way. At this moment an incident occurred which entered into the Morrow philosophy and became a ruling motive in his life.

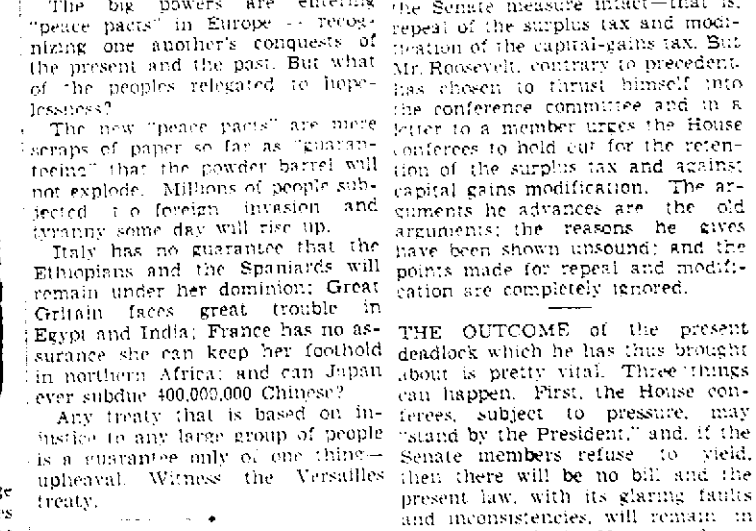

They accosted a little Rugby lad of about twelve years. "Could you?" they asked, "tell us the way to the station?"

"Well," he answered, "you turn to the right there by the grocer's shop and then take the second to the left. That will bring you to a place where four streets meet. And then, sir, you had better inquire again."

"This answer came to symbolize for Dwight Morrow his own method of approaching complicated problems," writes Harold Nicholson in an excellent biography. "It implied in the first place a realistic skepticism regarding the capacity of human intelligence. The human mind is a small vessel and cannot, at any one moment, hold too much. It was, in the second place, an object lesson

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

IF YOU have reached the age where your skin is showing lines of age, you must, to obtain the most flattering effects, give careful consideration to the selection of your color scheme.

Older women whose faces show lines and shadows should not wear dresses, coats or hats of bright colors, which have a tendency to harden such faces.

The larger area in an older woman's ensemble should be subdued in color. Only the trimmings should be bright.

This is especially true of brilliant greens, reds and blues, which are generally unkind to all but the most flawless skins.

Black, with a touch of color or a creamy white about the throat, navy blue or any of the pastel shades harmonizing with her own coloring will "do more" for the fading woman.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing a self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

So oft the heart sick says:
"Why take my love away
And let that monster stay?"

So oft the sorrowing cry:
"Tell us, dear Lord, why Beauty and youth must die?"

Why keep them, their courage gone,
Broken and bleak and wan,
Blanderingly stumbling on?

Groping for answer I
Give this as my reply:
"Not all are fit to die!"

Bible Thought For Today

The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out and the young eagles shall eat it.—Proverbs 30:17.

MAN IS AN ANIMAL

Young people who are in the schools and colleges this year are as fine specimens as the country ever produced. They not only are mentally superior, they are physically better. Records of physical culture departments prove this.

Men and women have been growing taller in recent years. The average increase of stature is well established and is consistent. It is the logical result of better home conditions; better health safeguards; better understanding of requirements of diet, and a more ample and diversified food supply.

Whether the improvement is general for the entire population is not known. Better records are kept in the advanced schools and the young people privileged to complete their education come from families having adequate incomes.

Man is an animal and the science of animal husbandry has proved that well-fed stock thrives.

"THEY WANT BOOKS, ALL RIGHT"

William Allen White acquired a fame that lasted for decades by a famous editorial entitled "What's the Matter with Kansas?" He knew the answer and told it in no uncertain terms. It is a different Kansas now.

In one of the most spirited of local publications, The Texas Weekly, of which Peter Moynihan, a gifted writer, is editor and publisher, there appeared last week an indictment of the relative booklessness of the Lone Star State. It tells one of the things that are the matter with Texas. Small towns need public libraries, and need them badly. Says the writer:

"Most of them have no access to free libraries. In fact nearly 4,000,000 Texans lack any public library service whatever. That fact is a challenge to every public-spirited citizen of Texas who understands that the public library is an integral part of any educational system, that the public library is an educational institution for all the people, children and adults alike. And that includes residents of big and little cities, of small towns and of rural areas."

Texas by the 1930 census could boast five cities of more than 100,000 population, but only 41 per cent of its almost 6,000,000 population is urban. Scattered population over a tremendous area—Texas is so large that by terms of its admission to the Union it may split up into four states—doubtless accounts for this failure to provide libraries.

PRESERVING AMERICA'S SHRINES

The addition to Henry Ford's Americana collection of the old home and shop of Orville and Wilbur Wright, where the Dayton bicycle repairmen built the first airplane ever successfully flown, has preserved for generations to come this memento of what has been one of the most amazing technical developments of all time.

Men and organizations which cherish souvenirs of spiritual or material events have no way of knowing how much the sentiment therein encompassed will inspire visitors. The Ford Museum already has preserved intact Edison's old laboratory, the courthouse where Abraham Lincoln made his forensic debut, the cabin of Steinmetz, Burbank's tool-house, the toll gatehouse in which Whittier muses, and McGuffey's birthplace. Now, the Wright brothers' home and workshop are assured a similar safeguarded longevity.

It is a step even unimaginative realists can applaud: it is a brand of conservation whose fruits may be entirely esthetic, and not intrinsic, but America needs more solace for its spiritual values as the tempo quickens, as life's pace speeds.

Saving such shrines, in museums or otherwise, provides an anchor for persons who otherwise might drift too far from the proven known to the nebulous unknown. If these reminders of an age which has passed can continue helpful to ages none now dare predict, they will attain a measure of their vast potentialities.

Expect Governor Earle To Reply

Governor Announces He Will Call Press Conference During Day

READING, Pa., April 22.—Governor George H. Earle today was expected to reply in full to accusations of S. Davis Wilson, mayor of Philadelphia, and candidate for U. S. senate nomination on the Democratic ticket, that he had borrowed $30,000 from Matthew McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and Democratic leader.

Earle advised newspapermen he would call a press conference today and examine Wilson's charges in detail, before accompanying other candidates on a swing through Garcon and Monroe counties.

The chief executive declined to comment on Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti's announcement that he has begun a complete investigation of the charges.

dent's tax policies would be repudiated by both branches of Congress and his orders completely disregarded. In that event, business, which has been clamoring for repeal of these taxes, unquestionably would be greatly encouraged.

OR, third, the House conferees and the President may prevail, the surplus tax be retained and capital-gains tax stay unmodified. In that event the discouragement of business would be inevitable. Business men generally would feel that hope from either Congress or the President was not well based. Not many will dispute these facts, and it really is extraordinary that the one concrete action upon which there is such unanimity of feeling as essential to a restoration of business confidence and security should be barred by Mr. Roosevelt in order to save his pride. The great question is whether the people as a whole will reach the conclusion that the price of saving the President's pride is too high to pay—and reach it in time to save themselves an awful lot of trouble.

While the bed ticking used in making bed sacks for the jail beds is not quite like what you have in your own home, the chances are that it is stronger. At the present time the sewing project of the WPA is engaged in working up 1200 yards of the stuff for the jail and it is a job.

The ticking is strong and heavy, purposely so, for now and then a prisoner decides to break his vengeance upon his bed. When he does away goes the mattress. On Thursday the county commissioners visited the project and found the work going satisfactorily.

There'll be some farming going on at the county home this summer. Edwin O. Reed, welfare officer, has placed his order for seed potatoes, lettuce, onions, radishes, corn and beans. Many of the guests at the home are able to aid in the work of raising vegetables and harvest time this year will see a real crop, providing the weather holds up.

The case of the City of New Castle against Helen Taylor (later the estate of Helen Taylor) is closed. The closing order was written into the record on Thursday, workmen are busy again erecting the new building on Grove street and it is likely there will be no more action on it. The city moved that the building be classed as a nuisance and the nuisance abated, following the death of Frederick Taylor. Some testimony was taken tending to prove that the building was unsafe but later an offer was made to remedy the unsafe condition and finish the building in first class fashion.

Farm Taxes In State Falling Figures Reveal

National Survey Just Completed Shows Pennsylvania With Low Farm Tax Cost

GRADUAL FALLING OFF IS SHOWN

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 22.—Farm taxes in Pennsylvania are falling, contrary to the rise in other states, it was revealed today.

Based on a national survey just completed by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics and released here by the State Department of Agriculture, taxes on farm real estate as per $100 of farm value were shown to have fallen from $2.21 in 1932 to $1.70 for 1936, the latest year available. The rate for 1935 was $1.72.

Furthermore, stated the State Agriculture Department, "the survey for 1937 and 1938 is expected to show a further reduction in farm taxes in Pennsylvania due to the abolition of poor boards, increased state appropriations for schools, and state maintenance of more township roads. Higher rates are predicted for other states."

Fall Is Gradual
From 1930 to 1936, according to the Federal Bureau, farm taxes per acre fell from $1.30 to 98 cents. Based on an index which equaled 100 per cent as of 1913, the bureau statistics showed a drop in farm real estate taxes from 250 per cent in 1930 to 195 per cent in 1936.

Farm bankruptcies in Pennsylvania also declined, it was revealed, dropping from 134 in 1933-35 to 114 in 1936-37. The number of farm bankruptcies in Pennsylvania in 1936-37 averaged 8.8 per cent of the entire number of bankruptcies in the state during that period.

The state department's prediction of higher rates for other states was backed also by a statement from the Federal Bureau of Agriculture which stated "A preliminary survey of the trend of tax levies between 1936 and 1937 was made among tax officials and tax students in the various states. The personal judgments of these authorities in some 42 states as summarized by the bureau, indicate that for the country as a whole the levies of 1937 averaged somewhat higher than those of 1936."

Real Estate Higher
Offsetting the fall in taxes during the past four or five years, real estate values since after the war have shown an enormous decline, according to the Federal Bureau, dropping in Pennsylvania from an index of 140 per cent in 1920 (based on a 100 per cent average as of 1912-14) to 67 in 1937. In 1933, however, when it reached a low of 78 per cent it has risen steadily.

The decline in farm values, however, was considerably less in Pennsylvania than in the nation as a whole, the Federal Bureau pointed out. Between 1920 and 1937 farm real estate in the nation decreased in value by 50 per cent, while in Pennsylvania for the same period the decrease was 38 per cent.

CHURCH TO BLOOM WITH POTTED PLANTS

PITTSBURGH—A new idea in symbolizing Lent materialized in 1,200 narcissus blooms here recently when the congregation of the Calvary Episcopal church returned the bulbs given them two weeks before.

The Rev. Edwin J. Van Eten, pastor, distributed the bulbs in painted cans and church members took them home, returning them ready to bloom fully for Easter Sunday.

Over a ton of gravel was needed to provide for the bulbs, which were used in a special Easter display.

The sheep is four years old and is normal in every other way. Two "spare legs" protrude from the left side at the shoulder.

Some Unusual Ideas Written For Teachers

Language is a medium for the expression of thought. When one attempts to write he must have thoughts to express and he must have a working knowledge of this medium, which we call language, for the expression of thoughts. The correct meaning of words, how to spell them, the proper arrangements of words in sentences, the arrangement of sentences in paragraphs, are some of the things which people must know if they expect to write correctly.

In learning to talk a child utters sounds which at first have no definite meaning. As the child's experiences increase he refines these sounds and gradually learns to associate them with the correct meaning. This is a slow process, and teachers and parents must be alert constantly in aiding children to talk correctly. But it is not until people try to write that the inaccuracies of their language become fully evident.

"I pledge a legion to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for Richard Sande; one nation and a vegetable with liberty and justice for all."

Such was the rendition of the rather vaguely familiar Flag Salute by a California elementary school pupil.

California, however, has no monopoly on such inaccuracies. A New Castle teacher, in checking on pupils' abilities to write correctly the Flag Salute, found the following as typical of a nine year old pupil's first attempt: "I pledge a legion to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation invisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Some of the more amusing conceptions were: "With justits and all"; "and to the repuplick in which it stands"; "one nasyon into visible"; "and to the public for which it stands"; "of livery and just: its for all."

Situations such as these are constantly arising in school and in homes where an intelligent effort is made to promote accuracy in language.

If we adults are tempted to smile at children's errors in language we might make some interesting discoveries if we attempted to commit to writing the Preamble of the United States Constitution, the first sentence of the Declaration of Independence, the Pledge of Allegiance or other well known excerpts from the literature of citizenship.

Japanese Crisis

Prince Fumimaro Konoye
... his path not easy

In an effort to ward off a Fascist dictatorship in Japan, the powerful Munseito party has pledged support to Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, above, in his dispute with militarists striving to create a totalitarian regime. Konoye has been under constant pressure for weeks to proclaim a military dictatorship. He threatened to resign unless he is permitted to preserve a balance of power between civil and military factions. In the crisis, observers believe that increasing pressure from the army and navy may precipitate Konoye's overthrow to divert public attention from the stalemated situation in China and growing domestic nervousness.

Museum Exhibits Whistle Used 20,000 Years Ago

(International News Service)
CHICAGO—A 20,000 year old whistle fashioned from an animal's perforated leg bone, possibly used by prehistoric traffic cops, is an exhibit in the Hall of the Stone Age at Field Museum here. But this evidence of early man's attempts to make himself heard at great distances is not unique. "In Europe as far back as 30,000 years ago prehistoric man made whistles and flutes from leg bones of geese, swans, eagles, chamois and reindeer," declares Dr. Henry Field, curator of physical anthropology at the museum. Even a lion's discarded molar is known to have been pressed into service as a flute in Czechoslovakia, Dr. Field adds.

Professor Hits Modern Trends In Education

(International News Service)
LEAVENWORTH, Kan.—Decriing modern trends in education, Dr. William C. Bailey of Teachers college, Columbia university, New York, London last year numbered 15,318.

urged a return to the fundamental subjects in a recent speech here. Latin, grammar and mathematics have been forsaken for school "activities," he said, and we expect "by some miracle, the students will attain an education." Despite the expansion of high school systems to make an education possible for all, he concluded, the students of today are not brought up to the standard of the high school student of former years.

Forecast Big Republican Gain In Congress This Fall

Politicians And Writers Guess

Foresee Gain Of 60 Seats In House And Four In Senate For G. O. P.

RECESSION GIVEN AS CHIEF CAUSE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A Republican gain of sixty seats in the house and four in the senate will be registered in the November elections—if you want to accept the judgment of some 48 political writers, plus ten politicians.

Seeking a pre-view of the congressional elections, the magazine newsmagazine published today the results of a poll taken among Washington correspondents and politicians, and the above figures, sixty and four, represent their average judgment. If their predictions are borne out, the Republicans will make what might be termed "substantial" gains, but will still fall far short of commanding a majority in either branch of the 76th congress.

Average Loss 61
The average of the 48 correspondents' predictions was a loss of 61 house seats for the Democrats and a loss of four in the senate. The average of the politician's guesses was a loss of 57 house seats, and four in the senate. Considering the wide divergence of views, the figures from the two groups, writers and politicians, were remarkably close. In the case of the senate they were identical—four.

The politicians taking part in the poll were:
Democrats: Jas. A. Farley, chairman of the national committee; James Roosevelt, presidential son and secretary; Rep. Pat Boland of Pennsylvania, whip of the house; Emil Hurja, former statistician for the national committee; and Charles Michelson, publicity director for the national committee.

Republicans: John Hamilton, chairman of the national committee; Senator Charles L. McNary, minority leader; Senator John G. Townsend, chairman of the senate campaign committee; Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, chairman of the congressional campaign committee; and Earl Venable, its secretary.

Cause Of Democratic Reverses

The first two questions in the poll merely concerned the make-up of the senate and house in the next congress. But the third question concerned causes for the predicted Republican gains.

Those polled were asked to indicate the three largest factors in the Democratic reverses.

The combined judgment of the 58 writers and politicians was that the business recession would be primarily responsible for the Republican gains. Forty-nine of the 58 listed the recession as the No. 1 cause. Democratic disunion, as exemplified in congress this session and in the primaries now getting under way, was listed as No. 2, and the fiscal policies of President Roosevelt was listed as No. 3.

Only one of the 48 writers and only one politician predicted a Republican gain of as high as 60-to-100 house seats.

The present house consists of 332 Democrats and 90 Republicans. If the average judgment of the politicians and writers is vindicated, the Democrats would still control the house by a large majority. The largest senate gain predicted in the combined group was ten seats. The smallest zero. In the present senate there are 77 Democrats and 15 Republicans. The highest Republican calculation of gain therefore would leave the Democrats in control.

Autos Begin To Use Portion Of Clayton Street

Close To 5,400 Tons Of Earth Have Been Removed From Hillside

Many motorists have started to regularly use West Clayton street, between Second and Lafayette streets, the portion heretofore closed to traffic by a huge hillside.

WPA workmen have been busy for more than a month removing this hillside and hauling the dirt to the East Cherry street bridge where it is being used for fill-in behind the recently constructed flood-wall along the river bank.

According to the project timekeeper, an average of 75 loads of dirt are being removed each day from the hillside. Close to 5,400 tons of earth from here has been hauled to the bridge project and packed into place by another crew of men.

For the past week, the workmen at the bridge have encountered water in their fill, to make the work more difficult. A miniature lake was formed by the last rain and all of this water has not as yet run away.

Pushing Work On New Plant

Big Pennsylvania Power Co. Plant Rising At West Pittsburg

HUGE STACK WILL RISE AT PLANT

Rapid progress is being made on construction of the Pennsylvania Power company's new $3,000,000 power plant at West Pittsburg. When completed there will be a stack 275 feet high, which will be taller than the stack on the Rosena site.

According to engineers the basement of the structure will be 30 feet below the level of the ground and 110 feet above ground. It will be a fine looking building with a good architectural design.

Several days ago several boiler drums of 2 5/8-inch steel thickness, each weighing 22 tons were hoisted into position and already 1160 tons of structural steel and 662 tons of reinforcing steel have been placed. The conduit which has been imbedded in the plant and some of which yet remains to be placed would, if placed in a straight line, extend for a distance of 35 miles.

Material sent to the plant would fill 350 cars and the crushed coal bunkers will be large enough to hold 420 tons. The boiler will have a capacity of 200 tons an hour and preparations are being made that if necessary 3,600 tons will be burned in a day. A large coal yard has been made and a railroad track extends from there into the plant.

The rear portion of the building will be six stories high. The offices will be located in the southern section of the building and the front will be on the east side. The grounds around the building will be enhanced in appearance and the plant and surroundings will present a beautiful sight to persons traveling in that vicinity.

At present there are piles of huge steel girders on the site. The skeleton steel work for the building already has been erected and iron workers can be seen on every portion of the huge frame.

Fills have been made with dirt excavated from the site but the structure which now is beginning to take shape will not be completed for months.

Those tiny specks of acum that you see just as you are about to hang the wash on the line are usually caused by hard water. Use soft or softened water for rinsing, or give the clothes a light suds rinse before the regular rinse, and the acum will float out of the fabric.

Japanese Drive Toward Hankow

More Than 200,000 Japanese Troops Are Massing For Drive Southward

FURIOUS FIGHTING REPORTED TODAY

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, April 22.—Japanese troops joining forces from Yichang and captured Lung on the southern Shantung province battle front, today launched a colossal combined drive toward the south, aimed at eventual capture of Hankow, Communist China Kai-Shek's capital.

Chinese advances from Hankow, reporting the new Japanese drive, estimated 200,000 Japanese troops are now converging on the battle-torn Tatsienkang area in a major offensive to recoup the recent Japanese defeats.

Furious Fighting
Huge Chinese armies massed in the southern Shantung region, were reported fighting furiously to stem the Japanese advance. It was claimed the Chinese were still holding their ground this morning.

Meanwhile, Japanese military headquarters reported more than 10,000 Chinese were killed and 30,000 wounded in fighting in central China since the middle of March.

Following the Japanese occupation of Lung after a terrific battle inside the city's walls, the Chinese drew up their lines two miles south of the city, where they massed between 200,000 and 300,000 men.

The Japanese grand offensive is expected to attempt to rescue 10,000 Japanese trapped inside Mitsien, and another division surrounded in the Tien Chuchen mountain region, before pushing down toward the Lungtai railway and then toward Hankow.

MEXICO CITY, April 22.—Great Britain was on record today with a renewed demand for restoration of the expropriated Mex-Eagle Oil companies' properties to their former owners.

In a note presented to the Mexican government by the British legation, the British government said: "His majesty's government, while taking note of the news presented by the Mexican government, cannot admit the validity of their arguments."

"His majesty's government is not intervening on behalf of the Mex-Eagle Company, but on behalf of a very large majority of shareholders of the company who are of British nationality."

Restoration of the confiscated properties was requested as the "only practical means of avoiding serious injury to extensive British interests."

MEN RISK INJURY MORE THAN WOMEN TRAFFIC TESTS SHOW

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—The weaker sex is also more cautious—at least in traffic at busy street intersections.

Such is the finding of experts from Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory, who "clocked" hundreds of pedestrians and drivers while cooperating in a survey of traffic conditions. "Almost twenty times as many men drivers as women endanger the lives of pedestrians by trying to 'beat' traffic lights," according to A. R. Ellis, president of the laboratory when annually conducted "cavalry" tests for American automobiles. "We also found that women three times as many men as women risk their necks by cutting diagonally across the street at intersections."

The information obtained in the traffic tests, Ellis said, will be used in a national safety campaign designed to reduce the auto accident death toll below last year's staggering record of 39,700.

NORWALK, O.—Nearly 70, Michael Malony of nearby Wakenan is acknowledged as Huron county's "bicyclist" man.
Malony, who was born in Ireland, averages 40 miles a day on one of his three bicycles. Missing only three days of cycling last winter, he pedaled a total of 15,000 miles in 1937.
Malony said his peak performance came when he pedaled from Chicago to nearby Bellvue, a trip of about 325 miles, in 27 hours actual riding time.

British Inspired Approval On Pact Stressing Peace

American Attitude Toward Anglo-Italian Accord Causes Surprise

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—President Roosevelt's formal statement placing America's "O. K." on the Anglo-Italian peace accord was inspired by the British government of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, it was learned today on high authority.

Hardly had the ink dried on the concordat at Rome when Downing Street approached the American state department through diplomatic channels. It was "suggested" that an official pronouncement of approval by President Roosevelt would prove a highly effective additional aid toward preservation of European peace.

Prompted By Suggestion
Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles communicated the British proposal to the president Tuesday morning and the president's statement, carefully drafted in the state department, was read by him at his bi-weekly press conference Tuesday afternoon.

The revelation that the statement was not wholly spontaneous but was prompted by a British suggestion, particularly in the light of British internal policies, surprised foreign diplomats here who were just beginning to recover from the surprise evoked by what they viewed as a reversal of the United States' attitude toward the Fascist powers.

Traffic Light To Be Changed

Operation Plan For Croton-East Washington St. Light To Be Altered

Rex Hughes, city electrician, stated today he proposes to make a change in the operation of the traffic light at East Washington street and Croton avenue some time Monday and it is possible the new arrangement will be effective Tuesday.

The light will be lowered Monday and re-wired.
At present when the vertical arrow comes on, for east traffic, the arrow for the Croton avenue turn, comes on with it. This arrangement will be changed.

He will arrange the signal so that when the vertical arrow comes on, the arrow for the turn into Croton avenue, will come on 10 seconds before the vertical arrow disappears. Through this arrangement and a different arrangement on other Washington street lights will result, Hughes believes in traffic being permitted to flow uninterrupted by stop lights between Croton avenue and the public square.
Hughes will announce when the new plan has been arranged.

Whitfield left his apartment last Friday after a minor tiff with his ten-month bride and after a brief stop at a Long Island hotel, took off from Roosevelt field in his plane for what he said would be a short flight. He has not been seen since.

Accusations Of Favoritism Made Against Governor Will Be Looked Into

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff

HARRISBURG, April 22—Out of the heat of the Democratic primary campaign, today emerged a full-fledged investigation of charges of favoritism leveled against Gov. George H. Earle by a political opponent.

In response to a request by Mayor S. Davis Wilson, Governor Earle's Democratic opponent for U. S. Senator, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti announced he had instituted an official investigation into activities of the $65,000,000 general state authority.

Wilson, in a campaign speech at Williamsport Monday, inferentially charged Governor Earle with accepting $30,000 in loans from Matthew H. McCloskey, wealthy Philadelphia contractor and prominent Democratic backer, and called upon Margiotti to investigate whether Governor Earle had influenced awarding of contracts to McCloskey. The contracts total close to $10,000,000.

"I will investigate the charges made by Mayor Wilson to the fullest extent of my lawful authority," said Margiotti. "The investigation will be full and complete and will be concluded as promptly as the circumstances warrant. I will make the results public."

The investigation will be completed before the primary, said Margiotti.

Receiving Vision For Service "Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Mark 9:7—"This is my beloved Son: hear ye him."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson for April 24 is Mark 9:7-10. The Golden Text being Mark 9:7. "This is my beloved Son: hear ye him.")

THE PRIVILEGE Jesus gave to Peter, James and John of witnessing his transfiguration was not given them for the purpose of entertaining them. It was for the purpose of inspiring them to greater service. Vision, vision and vision are found together again and again in our Bible. When the vision and voice do not result in vision, they have failed to serve God's purpose.

The Vision

Six days after Peter's confession of faith in Jesus as "the Christ, the Son of the living God," Jesus talked with him Peter and James and John, and brought them up high mountains apart by themselves, and he was transfigured before them, and his garments became glistering, exceeding white, so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses; and they were talking with Jesus. Luke adds that "they spoke of his decease which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem." And there came a cloud overshadowing them; and there came a voice out of the cloud. This is my beloved Son: hear ye him. And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one with them, save Jesus only with themselves.

The Nature Of The Vision

This then was the vision: and this the voice seen and heard by the highly privileged inner circle of our Lord's disciples. It came about, Luke tells us, "as he was praying." For a brief time God gave transparency to the veil of his human flesh and allowed the full glory of his deity to shine forth to the inner amazement of those who but lately had become assured that their Master was infinitely more than a man among men. Their hearts were drawn testimony that he was "the Son of the living God." Now, by a vision of God and by the voice of God the testimony of their hearts is confirmed to these "three witnesses of his glory." Peter calls it a revelation of the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. In other words, God showed to these three favored disciples a "preview" of that glorious spectacle of our Lord's second coming at the end of the age when in a flash the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

The Purpose Of The Vision

Peter missed the purpose of the vision. He wanted to stay there on the mountain and enjoy it forever. "Peter answered and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. For he was not what to answer for they became sore afraid." It was a vision of high and holy inspiration for the three disciples. But the purpose was not to make them stay there. The purpose was to inspire them to service in the world below. The vision and the voice must move to venture to service in the world below. The vision and the voice must move to venture to service in the world below. The vision and the voice must move to venture to service in the world below.

"DO I have to do those old dishes?" Ever hear laments like this at your house? Maybe there's good reason—perhaps you could make those dishwashings a lot easier. For it's grease—stubborn substance that adheres to dishes, silver, baking pans and skillets—that makes dishwashing doubly difficult. Modern housekeepers use a grease solvent—Climalene. They find this thrifty cleanser produces a thicker, longer-lasting suds... yet actually reduces soap bills one-half or more. Dishes—silver—pots and pans emerge grease-free... glistening. And remember, when you reach once for Climalene you'll never need to reach twice for soap.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Democrats May Lose Some Seats

Republicans Are Expected To Make Gains At November Election

NEW DEAL MAY LOSE MORE GROUND

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 22.—As Leader Bertrand H. Snell of the G. O. P.'s pretty small contingent in the house of representatives recently remarked there may not be such a disproportion of Democrats over Republicans in the next congress as in the present one.

In fact, it will be surprising if the Republicans do not gain a few seats at the November election. It seems impossible that they can make any poorer showing than they did in 1926. Any Republican who won then surely ought to be able, if renominated, to do it again this year. Otherwise the G. O. P. seemingly might about as well fold up and go out of business.

On the opposite hand there assuredly is considerable disunion in Democratic ranks, which logically should tend to the advantage of Republican candidates.

A QUALIFICATION

True, a qualifying consideration success itself.
Where an anti-New Deal Democrat is opposed to a Republican it is conceivable that many Republican voters, hopelessly discouraged by their own party's late reverses, will cast their ballot for the Democratic anti-New Dealer rather than waste them, perhaps, on the G. O. P.'s nominee.

Something like this was hinted at in connection with the April senatorial primary in Illinois.
The Illinois primary had a New Deal aspirant, although backed by the discredited Kelly-Nash machine, versus a lukewarm New Dealer, backed by Governor Horner for the Democratic nomination; also an aspirant, who naturally was an anti-New Dealer, for the Republican nomination.
The Republican got his nomination, and the Democratic lukewarm
New Dealer got his.
The point is that the number of primary votes cast for the rival Democrats was heavy out of all normal proportions, as between Illinois Democrats and Republicans, on the split Democratic side.

REPUBLICANS AS DEMOCRATS

Is it a fair conclusion that many Illinois Republicans voted as Democrats in that primary with a view of getting an anti-New Dealer onto the senatorial ticket—an anti-New Dealer, whether a Democrat or a Republican?

Politicians generally think so.
New Deal officials in charge of the Illinois primary evidently thought so, for they fought like sixty against the acceptance of a high percentage of the votes offered, on the ground that the would-be voters were not Democrats but Republicans, and therefore were voting in the wrong primary.

TO SOLIDIFY?

Still, when it comes to a final show-down, the Democrats, whether classed as "pro" or "anti" New Dealers, are due to lose some congressional seats in November.
A split party can't help it.
It is desirable maybe, from the Democratic angle. A bit of loss may solidify the party.

UP FOR RE-ELECTION

The house of representatives is hard to analyze; there are so many representatives.
The senate is easier.
Thirty-one senatorial seats are at issue.

Only four of them are Republicans held—those of James J. Davis (Pa.), Ernest W. Gibson (W. Va.),
G. P. Nye (N. D.) and Frederick Steiwer (Ore.).
The remainder are Democrats—
but not all pro-New Deal.
The Democratic incumbents include:

Adams (Col.), Barkley (Ky.),
Borah (Wash.), Brown (N. H.), Bulley (O.), Caraway (Ark.), Clark (Mo.), Dieterich (Ill.), Duffy (Wis.), George (Ga.), Gillette (La.), Hayden (Ariz.), Hill (Ala.), Loneragan (Conn.), McAdoo (Cal.), McCarran
(Nev.), McGill (Kan.), Overton
(La.), Pepper (Fla.), Pope (Ida.),
Reynolds (N. C.), Smith (S. C.),
Thomas (Utah), Thomas (Ind.), Tydings (Md.), Van Nuys (Ind.),
and Wagner (N. Y.).

Among these, there will be re-elected or succeeded by other Democrats:

Barkley, Caraway, Clark, George,
Hayden, Hill, Overton, Pepper,
Reynolds, Smith and Tydings.

ANTI-NEW DEALERS

They will not all be New Dealers, though Democrats.
Clark, George, Pepper, Smith and Tydings are more than doubtfully New Dealers, to say the least. But they are Democrats.

There are several mixed-up others in the list.
However, they are not up for re-election just now.

EVERYTHING DOUBTFUL

States which can, imaginably, go senatorially Republican in November are:

Washington, New Hampshire,
Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Connecticut,
California, Nevada, Kansas, Idaho,
Utah, Indiana and New York.
They have done it before.
The two parties are too scrambled to signify much.

And it is reaching a point where the Solid South can go Republican, almost, too.

himself the best sniper, with a score of 168. Edward Prichard, with 159, was second in this event.
In the deep sight event Francis Brookman returned victorious with a score of 142. Close behind came Jack Colley with 132 and Sylvester Wilder with 124.
The boys will hold a similar shoot and a business meeting next Tues-

Exhibit At Union
Being Held Today
Public Showing Of Class Room
Work Opened At One O'clock Today
Doors to a well planned, educational and entertaining exhibit were thrown open to the public at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Union Christian church at the corner of Fourth and High streets, Scotland Lane.
All of the exhibits are based upon actual class work done by the students in the township schools.
Tonight, parents and the public are especially invited to visit the high school and view the work of their sons and daughters and neighbors. The exhibition will be open tonight from 7 to 10 o'clock and will be free to the public.
Groups of students from the high school have been appointed to be stationed at various places about the school with the faculty members to explain the various phases of the work.
Art work, geography, history, class projects and many other displays are cleverly arranged in the various school rooms. In the auditorium is a commercial exhibit which will be very interesting. This exhibit has been arranged by a number of industries located in the city of New Castle.
Jay G. Rudolph, supervising principal of the schools, stated today that from all early indications a crowd of well over 1,000 persons should be on hand tonight to view the exhibition.
Doors will open promptly at 7 o'clock and will remain open for visitors until 10 o'clock.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS
(Material Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

SENIOR CLASS PLAY
Spring is in the air and that means that the Senior play is underway. The Senior A's have chosen "China Boy" by James Reach and Tom Taggart, as their production because it is suitable to high school acting and is original in conception.
A play with two such characteristics should be well worth seeing.
"China Boy" is a joyous, rollicking, fast-moving comedy which is ideal for amateurs and is well adapted to a class play. It will be staged Friday, April 29, in the Senior High school auditorium and will provide an evening of good entertainment.
Miss Clara Hartsuff, the dramatic coach, has announced her cast as follows:
Miss Parker—Beatrice Sandler.
Will Parker—Clyde Rainey.
Annie—Lucille Casacchia.
Bill Parker—Frank Robinson.
Selma Parker—Louise Snaffer.
Bob Troutman—James Higgins.
Lulu Mae Robinson—Dorothy Lytle.
Charlotte Mack—Norma Jean Syl-ling.
George Robinson—Ernest Mc-Candless.
Mark Willis—Robert Carpenter.

SENATUS ROMANUS
In the cafeteria on Thursday morning Consul Primus, Sam Davy, opened the regular meeting of the Senatus Romanus. A business meeting was held which lasted the entire period. Among the subjects under discussion was the matter of reopening the sale of pencils this semester and the plans were set for purchasing more for sale next September.
Most important was the decision of the Senate to take a trip to Pittsburgh some time during May.
The trip will be open to the third and fourth-year Latin classes, and the members of the German club were also extended an invitation.
Plans were laid for a possible party early in May, to which the graduating Seniors are to be admitted free of charge.

GERMAN CLUB
The German club of the Senior High school met for its regular meeting in the high school cafeteria on Wednesday morning of this week.
The meeting was opened by President Richard Gilmore, and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The president then turned the meeting over to Wilbur Sloan, chairman of the program committee, who led the club in their popular game of Schnitzel-bank, and in various German songs.

The club enjoyed this recreation, as such activities allow them to make practical use of the German language and also to become more proficient in their pronunciation of German words.
On Wednesday evening after school the social committee of the club met to discuss plans for a club party some time in the near future.
Committees for the club were also announced at the meeting and were given as follows:
Program committee: Wilbur Sloan, chairman; Charles Coulter, Jane Haven.
Social committee: Anna Stevas, chairman; Edwina Raub, Betty Hank, Chalmers Sproul and Willis Foster.
Room committee: John Hanner, chairman; Ray Flavin and George Gardner.
Membership committee: Fred Denger, chairman; Jane Rhodes, Jeanne Metz.

McKenzie of the commercial department attended the Tri-State Commercial Teachers association in Pittsburgh on April 9.

Maxwell, Miss Sarah Dinkmore, Miss

of the High school faculty attended a meeting of the historical society of western Pennsylvania. The meeting was held in the Historical building in Pittsburgh, with Dr. J. G.
Shotwell of Columbia university as the main speaker.

THE GOLF TEAM
On Thursday afternoon the Ne-
Ca-Hi golf team held its first medal play tournament on the Field club greenway in order to determine the five members of the varsity squad. The team will be chosen from the five lowest scorers of the day. At press time the results had not yet been announced.
The first W. P. I. A. L. match of the season will be held next Friday, April 29, at Beaver Falls.

TRACK SEASON TO OPEN
The New Castle High track squad will hold its first competition of the season next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Taggart field, when the previously announced inter-class meet will occur. The school is invited free of charge. In case of bad weather the events will be postponed a day.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

SHEEP SHEARING CONTEST AND FIELD DAY

The Board of Directors of the Lawrence County Cooperative Wool Growers Association met with Superintendent of the fairgrounds and other interested parties recently and decided to sponsor a sheep shearing contest and Field Day, similar to the one held in Lawrence County last year.

The contest this year will be held at Mercer at the fair grounds on Thursday, May 10th.

The complete program of the Field Day will be announced later.

ROLL FIELDS FOR GRASS SEEDS BEFORE SEEDING

Many farmers are seeding clover and timothy with spring grains. Operators differ as to the best method.

In a typical northern Pennsylvania county, according to a recent survey, most of the farmers sowed the seed in front of the drill, covering the grain to an average depth of 2 1/4 inches, and generally using a roller or float after seeding.

This practice undoubtedly puts much seed so deep that it never grows. Seeding 8 quarts of timothy and 4 quarts of clover per acre would mean about 45 clover seeds and 300 timothy seeds per square foot. Apparently, only a very small per cent ever produce mature plants.

At present seed prices, a considerable saving is possible by sowing a smaller amount and following practices which may be expected to save the seed a better chance. These include a solid, finely pulverized seedbed, covering only enough for germination, not too heavy stand of oats, a sufficiently limed and fertile soil, and favorable moisture conditions.

Rolling before seeding crushes the clods, settles the soil, and provides a smooth surface on which to drill, where soil is reasonably moist, and with ample rains likely to follow, it is better to leave the surface rough to reduce crusting and washing.

It is usually best to sow the grass seed behind the clover, particularly makes cultivation easier. Practice level cultivation for all crops; do not plant in trenches or on ridges. Group such crops as corn, cabbage, peas, beans, tomatoes, and peppers in rows 3 feet apart for horse cultivation, and small growing crops as beets, carrots, lettuce, radishes and onions in rows 15 inches apart for hand cultivation.

A wheel hoe or hand cultivator equipped with blades or scrapers will soon pay for itself in time and labor saved. One with a single wheel is preferable. It can be used between the rows of closely planted crops.

SOD MAY BE INJURED BY EARLY PASTURING

In spite of wet, soggy soil, some farmers begin pasturing their cattle too early and the ground has become badly "punched."

This is poor practice. Early pasturing is borrowing on the remainder of the season. Punching the sod and full of holes is distinctly injurious to the pastures and have on the livestock as well. Giving the grass a chance to reach a growth of 4 to 5 inches before pasturing, the amount of feed produced during the season will be increased.

Improving the sod with lime, phosphate, and manure, there will be earlier pasture for cows. Proper pasture improvement sometimes lengthens the grazing season by more than 60 days. Normally, the grass will be suitable for grazing about May 1. Bluegrass pastures may be ready 10 days to 2 weeks earlier. Grazing should begin when the grass is about 4 inches high to prevent it from becoming too tough or woody.

Further information on pasture management may be obtained at the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, Pa.

COPPER HOLDING LEAD IN SPRING SHOE COLORS

Shoes for spring are prettier and more comfortable than ever. Broad heels, normal vamp, and many padded arches shoes made for comfort walking explains Miss Mary Vogle, home economics extension specialist at Lawrence County.

Punch holes in oxford, sandals and pumps make them more porous and allow for a circulation of air. This makes for additional comfort, she points out.

"Copper" in all its tints and shades, is holding the lead in color. Fortunately these variations blend favorably with most colors and are easy to match with paces and gloves.

This spring we also find other gay shoes on the market. Blue shoes, red shoes, green shoes and even purple shoes are being shown in an ever increasing variety of hues and combinations of hues to either match the outfit or to contrast with it.

The good old standbys are still with us. Black, navy, blue and dark brown shoes are just as up-to-date in cut and design as are their more faddish, colorful sisters. For those of us who wish to be practical, and who feel little in the number of shoes we can afford to buy, the dark ones still will be first choice. These shoes may be worn with practically any outfit for any occasion.

If we buy colored shoes it is well to inquire about the fastness of the dye, whether or not it will crack on the stockings, and how to clean the shoes.

Gabardine, linen and other fabric shoes will also be popular, adds Miss Mary Vogle. They are light in weight and are easier to wear than the leather shoes. Some people find that because they do not scuff as leather does, they are by far the most satisfactory all-around shoes for hot weather wear.

MUD STAINS NEED NOT RUIN SPRING CLOTHES

Among the familiar signs of spring are water and mud stains on new spring clothes. Raindrops are likely to leave their marks on silk frocks, while mud splashes may linger on skirts and hose.

Mud stains on fabrics not washable may be sprayed with denatured alcohol, say attention clothing specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Mud stains frequently contain oil and grease. This may be removed with a grease solvent, such as carbon tetrachloride.

Indians in Kenya colony are opposing the colonial office's proposal to reserve the Kenya highlands to European settlement, and will start a campaign in India to induce the Indian government to intervene.

Bible Study Class Lectures Interest

Fine Discourses Made Last Night By Rev. Bennett And Rev. McLean

Rev. G. S. Bennett last night continued the Old Testament course and Rev. W. V. McLean gave the second lecture of the New Testament course in the "Diamond Jubilee" Bible study course which is being held at the First Baptist church of this city. This was the second of five sessions which are being held Tuesday and Thursday evenings with Tuesday, May 3.

Rev. Bennett, in a highly interesting and instructive manner completed the background of the period of the Judges and his lecture had for two outstanding characters, Ehud and Deborah. Rev. Bennett will have the remaining three lectures in this course.

Rev. McLean, pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, gave a thorough analysis of the First Epistle of Peter. He discussed it first as to its author, second, as to its story and characteristics, and then took up the Epistle which these sub heads: to whom written, characteristics and design as to "theme," "inheritance," testimony of prophets, and lastly, Christian brotherhood. Rev. McLean's message was highly appreciated as it brought a clearer insight into this great Epistle.

The instructor for the New Testament meeting at the next session, Tuesday, April 26, will be Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church.

Visitors are welcome to sit in for the remaining lectures, and Sunday school superintendents are to announce at next Sunday's session and appoint representatives to attend in case this has not already been done.

The "good neighbor policy" is all right, but can't America be a good neighbor without being a good thing?

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH HARRIED!

SURE, we know—you've had your troubles! You've fretted, worried, wondered where do you go from here.

Well, what has it got you? What you really need is a change of outlook—and we know where you'll get it!

You'll get it in the front seat of a sparkling new Buick like this one pictured here.

You'll get it as your spirit lifts to the buoyant surge of a power plant that can leave even your cares behind.

You'll get it as you forget dull care in a ride so enjoyable that it's a pleasure again to travel just for the sake of traveling.

Yes, you'll be happy in this car that can make it clearer with every mile that there isn't any better way to invest your money!

Look at the record a minute. Others have had their problems, too. Others have wondered if they should wait a while before they buy.

But they didn't wait. They looked at this handsome big eight, they measured its value, they checked what it could do, for them and to them—and they bought!

They bought because Buick is too good to do without! They bought because they could get more for their money—not just more automobile, but more fun, pleasure, solid satisfaction!

Go now and do likewise! This great straight-eight lists at lower prices than some sixes—drive it and you'll know how to be happy though harried!

Wallace Beery Comes To Aid Of Jackie Coogan

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Wallace Beery, the good-natured bad-man of the screen, came to the aid of "The Kid" today.

A fast friend of both Jackie Coogan and his late father, John H. Coogan, Sr., Beery declared he would aid Jackie, with whom he worked in two pictures, in the latter's court fight against his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bernstein, for an accounting of the huge fortune he earned as a child star.

The burly screen star has known Jackie ever since the youth made his first appearance in pictures, and was a close friend of Jackie's father as a result of his friendship with Jackie.

Rubbing his hand over his face in the familiar Beery gesture, the star recalled the senior Coogan's pride over the success of his son and his constantly reiterated statements that Jackie would get all of his money when he was 21.

Put Money Away For Boy

"Not once, but many times, Jack told me he had never used or intended to use a cent of Jackie's money," Beery said. "Every penny the boy made was being put away for him and saved for him. Jack told me on many occasions. He was always careful to impress everyone at all times that Jackie's money would be all his and rightfully I believe when Jackie reached a man's estate."

"I shall be glad to help Jackie in any way possible so that his father's wishes may be fulfilled," Beery added.

Betty Grable, beautiful young actress, whom Jackie married recently, charged:

"When I became engaged to Jackie, Mrs. Coogan called up my mother and said:

"Not Marrying Rich Boy"

"If Betty thinks she is marrying a rich boy, she is very much mistaken. He hasn't a cent. He is a pauper."

"Many times she would call me and say disagreeable things, and I would take them without saying a word because I loved Jackie and I didn't want to cause any trouble. I never could understand her attitude. Whether Mrs. Bernstein thought I wouldn't make a good wife, or whether she just didn't want Jack to get married, I have no idea. But she certainly made me feel badly, even to the point of tears sometimes."

"She thought that would make me give Jack up. Well, it didn't, and it never will."

As attorneys for both sides denied rumors that an out of court settlement was in the offing, they prepared to go into court today for a hearing on the petition of the Bernsteins to dismiss the receivership declared on the Jackie Coogan Productions, Inc., at the time Coogan filed his suit.

Coogan was scheduled to leave here tomorrow for New York to appear in a radio broadcast, according to his attorneys, who also said that Coogan is not fighting for a portion of the estimated $4,000,000 he earned, but all of it.

State Authority Job Seekers Must Have Sponsorship

Political Sponsorship Is Virtually Essential To Securing Field Employment

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 22.—Political sponsorship is virtually essential to obtain field employment with the $65,000,000 general state authority, an authority spokesman revealed today.

In the wake of disclosure that every member of the authority board save two and numerous cabinet officers had sponsored authority employees, James B. Kelly, assistant executive director of the authority, pointed out the procedure requested by the authority asks a job-seeker to see his Republican or Democratic county chairman first.

"That is the procedure the authority has requested," said Kelly. To the best of his knowledge, he added, that was the procedure used throughout the nation on PWA hirings.

Asked whether a job-seeker would be considered for an authority position if he failed to obtain the endorsement of his county leader, Kelly replied: "Yes, he would, but the procedure is for him to see his county chairman after he secures his application and obtain his sponsorship."

There are no formal examination of job-seekers, Kelly explained, the board relying primarily upon the applicant's record as shown in his application.

Sponsorship of job-holders by authority members was disclosed in payroll sheets released by the authority.

Report Swindle Worked On Farmer

State Police Investigate Report Confidence Men Secure $1,560 From Farmer

State Motor Police were called to Pulaski township this afternoon to investigate the report that Charles Harvath, a farmer residing on the Edenburg-Pulaski road, two miles north of Edenburg had been robbed of $1,560 in a "confidence" racket, by two men.

According to the story Harvath told Charles Cox, a neighbor, who called the state police, one of the men had been at his home on several occasions stating that he wanted to buy Harvath's farm. He posed as a pottery worker from East Liverpool, O. and was of the same nationality as Harvath, a Hungarian. He said that he wanted to deal only with honest people and that as an evidence of good faith, Harvath should go into the bank and draw out his money and put it up with them until the deal was consummated.

After they had started into town to get the money, they picked up another man along the road, whom the first man claimed was his partner. After they got the money, according to Harvath, it was placed in a little black suit case for safe keeping.

They returned to the district, and drove on towards Pulaski, and Harvath became suspicious that everything was not right, and asked the men to show him their money. They told him to get in the back seat of the car and they would. As he stepped out into the road, the car started suddenly and the two men drove off and left him.

Denver Airport Has First Air 'Traffic Cop'

(International News Service) DENVER—Skyline traffic, like automobile traffic is becoming so congested and hazardous that "traffic cops" have to be retained to direct incoming and outgoing planes at the Denver Municipal Airport.

Of course the airplane traffic problem hasn't become as large as the automobile problem but the first step has been taken and a "cop" with stop and go signals recently was installed at the Denver airport. Designed as a precaution against accidents, green and red lights and a two-way radio with a "traffic cop" in a glass tower stop the airport administration building will direct the airplane traffic.

Incoming planes with radios will be given the signal to land when the runways on the field are clear. Planes without radios will have a powerful green light beam directed at them if they have the permission of the "cop" in the glass tower to land. If the runways are not cleared they will be signaled with a red light.

The signal lights can be seen ten miles in the daytime and 20 at night. The radio and weather equipment for determining wind velocity, barometric pressure and other data for airplane pilots, is valued at $20,000.

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA—Under a WPA grant, a class of Philadelphia school children are being taught "finger painting" as a phase of the national Federal recreation and education program.

Finger painting, explained Hazel Lator, WPA instructor, consists in covering a piece of wet paper with paint and tracing designs in the paint with the fingers, knuckles and palms.

Swindle Ring Is Broken Up

Ring That Tried To Pass $1,000,000 In Forged Travellers Checks Held

"BUGS" MORAN IS DECLARED LEADER

PITTSBURGH, April 22—Smashing of a nation-wide million dollar swindle conspiracy, was claimed by Pittsburgh and Chicago detectives today with the arrests of nine suspects.

A ring of 40 men and women, they charged, was organized to pass $1,000,000 worth of cleverly forged American Express Company travellers checks in principal cities of the country.

Charles "Bugs" Moran, notorious prohibition gangster, was the leader, and his first aide was Frank J. Parker, an airplane pilot, known as "the flying bootlegger," police here said.

Moran is seized. Moran, whose ring was wiped out in the St. Valentine Day massacre in Chicago, and Parker were seized last night with four others in Chicago. Three men were caught here.

The arrests were touched off in Pittsburgh when one man was nabbed in a cafe attempting to pass a $100 check and two others were seized in a downtown department store.

They were identified as Robert Sexton, 32, alias Robert Sloan, Frank Quigley, 34, alias A. J. Carpenter and Dan Kelly, 39, alias Daniel John Driscoll. In their baggage according to Inspector Walter Monaghan, were found bundles of counterfeit travellers checks totaling $21,800 and in their pockets two $100 checks.

Monaghan said the checks could barely be distinguished from the real thing even by experts. The only detectable difference was in the color of the ink.

Mongahan said the checks could barely be distinguished from the real thing even by experts. The only detectable difference was in the color of the ink.

As Moore lifted his craft, the approaching plane did likewise, forcing Gov. Earle's pilot to bank sharply.

"When" ejaculated the chief executive, mopping his brow in relief. "That was a close one."

One million ordinary bacteria, such as live in the human body, would occupy a space about the size of a pinhead.

Scientists cannot explain where they originate. It cannot distribute its seeds naturally and has never been found in a wild state.

Plant Heads Here See Expo Opened

Above is Charlotte Ann cutting the red and black ribbon with Mayor McGrath at her side. President Jones stands directly to the left of the mayor in the photo. Second to the mayor's left is Exposition Chairman Daniel H. Treloar, Jr.

The ceremony took place at the main eastern doorway to The Cathedral lobby.

Better Business Trend During Remainder Of Year Seen By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright 1934—Publishers
Financial Bureau

NEW YORK CITY, April 22—America's greatest metropolis and financial center is today a city of optimism. There is a little more cheer now than a week ago, but you can still cut the gloom with a knife. This fact, however, is not necessarily a bad sign. People in this vast city are so close to the trees that they cannot see the forest. Sentiment in Wall Street usually goes too far. Often when New York thinks that conditions are so rosy that it is time to pull in your horns, when they are the bluest, it is time to buy securities and goods.

Right now it is difficult for Main Street not to be discouraged too, because business is bad. A month ago in commenting on the trend I mentioned the possibility of revising my 1934 forecast. Despite current pessimism, I think that it is not yet necessary to make any change in my predictions of the trend of business. Some revision may be needed, however, in my forecast of the volume of business. The average of business activity for 1934 may not come within 10 per cent of the 1937 figure, but I am sure that we will see a tremendous upswing before Christmas. Furthermore, 1934 should see a further huge increase.

Was March The Low? Business so far this year has been wavering and jiggling back and forth. From New Year's Day to mid-January there was a slowing-down in activity. The next thirty days saw a slight upturn both in confidence and output. Then the following four and 1938 figures has been gradually narrowing.

4. Cotton textile activity has been sluggish for a month but it is now resuming the rise which started earlier in the year. Diminishing inventories all along the line have forced orders back to the mills. Mill activity is 10 per cent above the low.

5. Automobile output is running several thousand cars higher each week than a month ago. The manufacturers' policy of restricted output, plus a seasonal upturn in retail sales, have now speeded-up the assembly lines. A price cut, however, would be the best tonic for this industry right now.

6. Retail trade, due to the late Easter, is running less than 10 per cent under last year's post-Easter figures. A month ago the spread was 20 per cent. And remember, that retail prices are now 6 per cent less than their 1937 high. Hence, unit sales are not more than 9 per cent lower than a year ago.

7. Commodity and security prices are at a level where they are attracting the attention of genuine purchasers. Stocks of selected well-managed companies are on the bargain counter. Bond prices have lost all they gained in 1936 and 1937. Raw materials are cheap.

8. Bank deposits—the first indicator to start downward a year ago—have been expanding since early December. Moreover, last year at this time the Administration was tightening credit to prevent a "boom." Today it is doing everything in its power to make credit extra-easy.

Spring Outlook More Cheerful As a result of these indications, the President is apparently convinced that now is the time to start the most natural improvement, vigorous pump-priming. His gigantic spending plan will stimulate business over the near-term. While the skies have by no means suddenly cleared by the developments of the past two weeks the outlook is better today than a month ago. We have had periods of bad business before. Each time when conditions looked the worse we were on bottom. Just as winter inevitably turns into spring, so bad times inevitably turn into good times. This has never failed—and I doubt if it ever will.

I am convinced that before the year is over, New York sentiment will be far different than it is today. The stock market will again be boiling. Wall Street will again be sure that depressions are over as today it is convinced that the end of the world is in sight. When a man is flat on his back, there is only one way he can look—that is upward!

AROUND CITY HALL

City solicitors and Finance Director James L. Pink yesterday told council they did not feel as though they should bear the burden of recommending an adjustment of the paving lens filed against the Hoch property at Leasure and Wilmington avenues. Oliver Hoch et ux had asked for an adjustment. The opinion the solicitors and Pink presented said that, relative to the appeal the assessment in question was made for the paving of Leasure avenue about the time the James Memorial hospital was constructed. The amount of the original lien was $815.45, interest accumulated equals $370.98 and the costs $67.55. Against the total of the above items, $1,253.98, there has been paid $400.00 on account which left a balance of $853.98. The appellants claim the paving was done for the use of the hospital as Wilmington avenue was paved. They believe it would be an injustice to be required to pay the Leasure avenue assessment. The lot, irregular in shape, fronts 60 feet on Leasure avenue and 66.5 feet on Wilmington avenue. According to the opinion it is within the power of council to adjust the assessment on foot frontage lens. The opinion was filed.

Appeal of Mrs. D. Leonard. South Mill street, she be reimbursed for monies expended for a plumbing bill which resulted from a break in a sanitary sewer at her property was not granted yesterday. Instead, the council filed an opinion of the city solicitors. It appears a house connection ran through the South Mill street sewer and was broken. According to the solicitors, the legal liability depends upon the question whether the city built the storm sewer around the house connection or whether the house connection was cut through the storm sewer by persons who installed the house connection. The solicitors said that it seems a matter of conjecture whether the storm sewer preceded the house connection in construction. "If it did we cannot see any liability on the part of the city but if the city built the storm sewer around the house connection and this directly or indirectly caused clogging, it probably would be incumbent on the city to remedy the condition or to compensate Mrs. Leonard for the reasonable cost of her correcting the situation." The city sewer bureau did almost all the work it was reported. Council may, it disposed, the opinion said, work out an amicable agreement to pay a reasonable price for the plumber's time and expense in investigating it.

Council adopted ordinances yesterday placing lots 109-113, section 58 of the city survey (Butler avenue near Adams street) in a secondary business zone, in order that W. T. Boyd may construct a new milk depot. It formerly was in a B residential zone. It was reported to council that the building will improve the section. The petition which asked for the change was presented by W. T. Boyd and the Lehigh Portland Cement company.

W. C. T. U. Medal, Poster Contest At Wurttemberg

First Places Won By Geraldine Hoover, Betty Kirker, Gail Blair

ELLWOOD CITY, April 22.—Geraldine Hoover was the winner of the Junior medal contest held last evening at the Wurttemberg Methodist church under the auspices of the Wurttemberg W. C. T. U.

The subject of her reading was "My Pa And Me." Mrs. George Burrows, Mrs. Vera Cook and Mrs. Walter Gamble, all of Ellwood, were the judges. All of the participants were very good and the judges had a difficult time to select the winner. Others taking part were: Florence Howell, Wilda Graham, Nancy Elder, Ruth Marshall and Beryl Wimer.

It was also a poster-clipping contest and there were eleven fine entries on display. Winners were: 7th and 8th grades, Betty Kirker; first, Betty Dolter; second, 5th and 6th grades, Gail Blair; first, and Grace Lewis, second. Judges of the exhibits, which were all outstanding, were: Miss Helen Mayne, Mrs. Albert Gradner and Mrs. Thomas Patterson, of Ellwood.

There was a large appreciative audience in attendance. Mrs. Emil Books conducted the opening devotional period and during the evening a male chorus composed of Hugh Timblin, Edwin Furniss, Jacob Musselman and Emmett Liebenowicz accompanied by Miss Jean Kirker sang several selections.

Another contest will be planned in the near future.

Much credit for the success of the event is due Mrs. Emmett Liebenowicz and Mrs. Jesse Young, who conducted temperance work in the Wurttemberg schools.

We Must All Give

Today 150 workers strong will start to canvass this community and the nearby towns of Wampum, Ellport, Chewton, Wurttemberg and Zelienople to raise $9,500.00 for the purpose of saving the community hospital.

It is very important that this drive reach its goal by May 6, which is two weeks from today, as that is the dead line to meet the note and interest due the receivers of the First National Bank.

We must all give to this most worthy fund just as much as we can possibly give. Those of us who are on a steady salaryed income should give considerably more than those who are only getting a few days a week. The fact remains that regardless of our circumstances financially, we must all give something even though a nickel or penny be all we can possibly spare.

Should a solicitor miss your home through error, it is your duty to mail your check made out to the Ellwood City Hospital Association, to the Chamber of Commerce.

This drive must not fail and we urge every spirited Ellwoodian to give as much as their pocketbook can afford and not to measure their contribution with that of their neighbors.

Be a good citizen by doing your part to save the greatest institution that any community can boast of—a community-owned hospital whose doors are always open to every one.

Again we say: WE MUST ALL GIVE AND GIVE UNTIL IT HURTS

Walter Smith Tells Rotary Of C.C.C. Camps

Activities And Purpose Of Camps Explained In Interesting Manner

ELLWOOD CITY, April 22.—Captain Walter Smith, Ellwood boy, son of President H. W. Smith, was the guest speaker of the evening of Rotary in Presbyterian church and gave an informing and interesting discussion of the C. C. C. Camps.

Mr. F. E. Moore, chairman of the program committee, introduced Captain Smith. Captain Smith said there had been certain objectives in mind in setting up these camps, two of which were conservation of forests and of washed lands, and offering a good experience to many young men. The general direction of the camp was under the army, while the management of work activities was under the direction of that department of the government which had responsibility for that line of work, forests, fields, or other.

A camp used from five to twenty-five acres of land, had barracks, mess hall, kitchen, officers' quarters, general office, recreation hall, utility buildings, and other necessary equipment. The buildings were more or less temporary and often covered with tar paper. Revell rounds at five or five thirty. Breakfast at six thirty. Camp made ready for inspection. Eight hours at the work assignment, to which they go in trucks from a few hundred yards to twenty-five miles distance. The boys receive $5.00 a month, $25.00 a month is sent back to the boy's home.

The camp over which he had charge was made up of colored boys and was near Washington, D. C. He said it was a problem to feed the new fellows and make ends meet, and told of a hungry lad who "polished off" a whole meal with six loaves of bread. Ray Humphrey, at the close of the address, told the Rotarians that Captain Smith had to his credit the fact that his camp excelled in a number of ways which added to the pleasure and profitable experience of the boys. In answer to a question relative to the effect of the camp life upon the health of the boys, Captain Smith said that they had taken measurements and had kept records of the physical condition of a number of the boys which showed that a high percent of the boys made definite gain. In answer to a question concerning the educational opportunities, he answered that boys who could not read or write had to learn to write their names in order to sign for their checks. Schooling was optional.

During the winter season they took about half the boys in camp, numbering from 150 to 200 in all, in trucks to a high school in a near by city for the night school.

Mr. Moore said that the program by Secretary Denny Schill would probably be given next week.

President H. W. Smith was in charge of the meeting. Secretary Lowell Monroe read a letter concerning the hospital drive which was favorably received and referred to the Board of Directors for action. An attractive invitation to the first annual conference of the 175th district Rotary International which will be held in Bradford, May 16 and 17, was given to each Rotarian.

An amusing reading, "A Fidgety Thing" was contributed by Earl Friday and another reading, "America For Me" was given by Miss Sarah Beighley. Instrumental music was furnished by Albert and Chancy Boots accompanied by Eugene Fox.

A special guest of the evening was Mrs. Noble, of Massachusetts state, who is visiting as the home of her son, Elliott Noble, of Clover avenue. Mrs. Noble is a grange worker in her state and wished to compare the activities of granges of various localities.

Ralph H. Gardner To Address Wampum Ex-Hi Banqueteers

Harold W. Cohen, Pittsburgh, To Fill Role Of Toastmaster

ELLWOOD CITY, April 22.—Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of athletics at New Castle High school, will be the principal speaker, while Harold W. Cohen, dramatic editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, will direct activities from the toastmasters chair at the 8th annual reunion and banquet of the old Wampum Ex-Hi basketball players at Zelienople tomorrow night.

Although best known for his able handling of New Castle's athletic affairs over a long period of years, it is interesting to note that Gardner was considered an excellent basketball coach at New Castle high school. At that time he tutored the Castle five, arch rival of the Ex-His, and one of the best and most colorful quints ever to represent the county seat.

In 1926 three of Gardner's Castle players, John Kraft, Andy Hartman and the late Charles "Horse" Gillum entered Grove City College and won places on the varsity squad. All three became regulars on strong Grover teams completing their athletic career under Bob Thorr.

Cohen started his newspaper work as special Wampum sports correspondent for The New Castle News. At the time he was both player and business manager of the Ex-Hi stars. Cohen's interesting account of the future of the year and much to do with making Wampum basketball minded. The result and overflowing crowds attended the contest at the Opera house floor.

A graduate of New Castle high and Penn State Cohen wrote sports in New York for a time before joining the Post-Gazette staff about nine years ago.

Final plans for the banquet have been completed and all indications point to fine turnout of members and guests. Word was received this morning that Adam N. Dambach and Russell Galbreath of Milan and Bellevue, O., respectively would attend. This will mark their first appearance at the annual gatherings.

Spending Plan Is Under Attack

New York Congressman Leads Drive Against Spending Program

OFFERS SIX-POINT
REPUBLICAN PLAN

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Rep. William L. Dickinson, New York, today formally launched his drive in congress against the administration's spending program with a warning to the nation that President Roosevelt's recovery drive will result in an $8,000,000,000 deficit for the next fiscal year.

Serving as a spearhead for the attack, Rep. Dickinson of New York, chairman of the House appropriations committee, told the house the program will boost the annual cost of government to $12,500,000,000 and charged that plans are afoot for a $3,000,000,000 issue of inflationary greenbacks that will mean destruction of the government's credit.

Revenue To Fall
He predicted that because of a 50 per cent decline in customs receipts and a sharp cut in individual and corporate incomes that the government's revenue for 1938 will fall to $4,500,000,000.

At the same time Dickinson offered a six-point G. O. P. program for recovery entailing drastic revision of the Wagner Labor Relations Act, tax revision, repeal of the "greenback" act, a balanced budget, and return of relief administration to the states.

Earlier, WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins delivered a sharp rebuff to the G. O. P. proposal to decentralize relief. Hopkins was disclosed to have told the appropriations committee that to turn relief back to the states would mean "surrendering it to political domination and control" and that the New Deal would vigorously resist such a move.

Indictment Of New Deal
Dickinson's speech was a blanket indictment of the entire New Deal and its five-year history. He charged that the $1,000,000,000 PWA grant and loan program to be a "fake" that cannot put people to work until nine or ten months after it has gone into effect. He declared it had been included to win the support of congress to this "racketeering program."

Faber based his assertion that an issue of greenbacks is in the offing on reports of treasury purchases of paper for additional currency.

"This will wipe out the entire cushion of $4,500,000,000 in Federal Reserve notes in circulation and unquestionably will result in inflation," he declared.

Trial Flights For Model Plane Held

Many Preparing For Coming Aeroplane Contest At Airport Practice Nightly

In order that everything will be in readiness for the coming flying model aeroplane contest, scheduled to be held at the New Castle airport on May 30, under the sponsorship of the Lions club, a group of local youths journey to the airport each night to conduct trial flights for their ships.

All of the aeroplanes which have been tried during this week have been huge gasoline models. In order to expect to win any of the contests with a motor ship everything must be in perfect working order, thus the trial flights.

James Dean, Don Hanna, Benny Tencer and Don Kemp have had their models at the port for spins. Thursday evening when the group was at the port, the ship belonging to Benny Tencer met with disaster.

After making an excellent take-off from one of the new runways at the port, the ship climbed to a high altitude. Everything went fine until the ship was ready to land. The rudder was cut too sharp and as the plane touched the ground it was whirled over, badly damaging it. Tencer states it will be rebuilt in time to enter the contest.

Father Schirra Elected To Head Baseball League

City Baseball League Set For Successful Season With 11 Teams So Far

LEAGUE TO START PLAY ON MAY 15

Rev. Father Peter Michael Schirra, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church will be the guiding light behind the City Baseball League for the 1938 season. Father Schirra was elected to the presidency last night at the meeting of the managers of the eleven teams that will comprise the league.

The vice-presidents of the league went to Joe Smerquels of the Ryanstown team, and the secretary and treasurer job fell to Michael "Jack" Babovsky, well known local banker who so capably handled the funds of the league last year and who was a unanimous choice of the managers for the important post.

Hope For Success
The newly elected president has been here since last September coming to New Castle from St. Vincent's College at Latrobe, Pa., and is first assistant to Father Deen, pastor of St. Joseph's church. Father Schirra played football and baseball at school and is a lover of sports. He was graduated from St. Vincent's College in 1933 and obtained a priest in 1937 at St. Vincent's seminary. His pleasing personality and sincere efforts for the City Baseball league for the coming summer.

The following teams were present with their managers: West Pittsburg—Danny DeGennova, K. Pulaski—Alexander "Lefty" Maslyk, Lawrence—James George Zidow, Mahoning—A. A. Michael Orlando Ryanstown—Joe Smerquels, St. Joseph's—Father Schirra, New Castle Red Sox—George Witherspoon, East Side Merchants—Hank Stanley, West Side Tigers—Tommy McCormick, Union City—Eve and Annerella, Slavak—Johnny Slavak and Melba.

Six 12th Team
An effort is to be made to get another team to make it a 12 team league. The season will swing open on May 15th with all teams in action.

The following fields will be utilized—Ryanstown, Lee avenue, Rosena Field, Washington High Field, E. & A. Glasser Field, Cedar street, Scotland Lane and Centennial.

The league will operate three days each week—Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday. The game last year, no starting time was set neither was a league official ball adopted. These matters will be taken up at the next meeting of the league.

Commissioners Named
The following were elected as commissioners for the league: A. C. Fred Hie, Louis "Pick" Gitch, Joey Travers, Carl Gennock and Keith Van Poyan.

Already the teams have started workouts and the league will no doubt be ready to start next month.

STROLLERS TO PLAY FIRST GAME TONIGHT
East Side Strollers softball team will meet their first opponents tonight at 6 o'clock at the Clifton Platts field. They will play the Royal Cafe softball team.

Mack states that the Strollers would like to book games with any fast team in Lawrence County.

NATIONAL RADIATORS
Tonight the National Radiator softball team hopes to make its debut against the Bears on the Radiator field. Several other opening games were postponed due to inclement weather. Next week the Reds are slated to oppose three teams on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Honor Basketball Teams At Shenango On Thursday Night

Basketball made a one night comeback out at East New Castle Thursday evening when the Shenango township high school girls and boys teams were honored guests at a delightful banquet held in the school auditorium. The evening was devoted entirely to the popular game invented by Dr. Naismith. The group did everything but play.

At 6:30 o'clock the group gathered around three attractively arranged tables and ate a most delicious meal. After dinner and all the trimmings that spell a dinner fit for a royal family, G. W. Johnston, supervising principal of Shenango township schools, opened the affair by introducing Charles A. Landolf, New Castle News sports scribe, who served as toastmaster.

Following a few appropriate remarks, the toastmaster called on Mr. Johnston who responded with a few words. He complimented the athletes for their fine spirit throughout the season and the co-operation they displayed. Miss Frances Bower, new girls' coach, followed with a most interesting address. She pointed out various benefits athletes derive from playing basketball. She eliminated by complimenting her squad and brought out that like all other sports, basketball aids to develop important traits necessary in life after graduation days.

Miss Anna Spiller, a leader in county basketball during the season, followed her coach, and thanked the remainder of the squad for their fine support displayed throughout the season. Principal Canon of the Shenango high, was the next speaker. Like the remaining speakers, he congratulated the two groups for their fine showing on the court. Coach Frank Nocera, who in his two years as coach has accomplished much, was the next speaker.

He means success and helps to prepare us for the future. He said, "We are going to play, all right, but we are going to win. To lose means failure. But in sports, the victory should not be the end or the sole objective. Play for the enjoyment and recreation and as a means of building up your bodies. Always be a modest winner and a good loser."

Mr. Nocera said. He also mentioned the four important things necessary to lead one to victory—self sacrifice, perseverance, self confidence and co-operation. Captain Francis Pitzer was also called and thanked his mates for co-operating as they did. Mr. McGuire, Ben Franklin teacher, also spoke.

Ralph H. Gardner Speaks
Featuring the occasion was a comprehensive address by Ralph H. Gardner, New Castle high school faculty manager, the principal speaker of the evening. In a most interesting manner, Mr. Gardner explained the part athletics play in a young man's life. He stressed the fact that athletes should think of the class room besides the playing field and co-operation are four things which will lead a team to victory. Minus any of these, a team lacks necessary qualities. Gardner explained. He stressed "fight" in sports. Throughout his address Mr. Gardner related suitable examples. The gathering thoroughly enjoyed the comprehensive address by the grand daddy of New Castle high sports.

During the course of the affair the group enjoyed singing. William Smelanna entertained with several pleasing accordion selections. The banquet ended with the presentation of letters. The affair went down into the annals of the East New Castle institution as one of the most successful in some time.

Varsity letters were awarded to Captain Francis Pitzer, Ernest Tanner, Francis Donley, Sam Mooney, Carl Mooney, Walter Ovis, Robert Pitzer, Ray Fredericks, Harry Dunsen and Kenneth Robo, manager. Members of the girls' team also were presented with letters.

Among the young ladies present: Verna Makarovich, Dolly Sosky, Verna Myers, Ellen Williams, Lois Badger, Mary Troglio, Edith Trimble, Alice Dombroski, Dot Houk, Anne Hordig, Mary Stollita, Olga Poulchek, Anna Mae McCandless, Miss Cowmeadow and Miss Bower.

Barney Ross May Give Up Career In Padded Ring

Welterweight Champion Will Retire If He Loses To Henry Armstrong

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 22—If Barney Ross gets through the summer months without parting with his world's welterweight championship, he probably never will have to. He probably will enter the children's wear department store business with his new father-in-law, who is understood to have a chain of establishments in northern New Jersey.

To be humbly brief about it, Ross shortly expects to retire—undefeated, if possible; but with even sterner purpose if he loses his championship. The writer gets all of this pretty straight away from a valid source close to the champion.

Knew When To Quit
Ross, retiring undefeated, would join the favored few who had enough foresight and gumption to stop when the signals were set against them. Turney was one, the late Jack McAuliffe another, Benny Leonard and James J. Jeffries also tried to take their records with them into private life, but couldn't keep them there. They came back later for more—and I don't mean records.

In Ross case, a great deal, I understand, depends on what happens, financially and competitively, in his fight with Henry Armstrong here on May 27. If Ross can't beat the featherweight champion, clearly and the receipts manage to avoid doing a one-and-a-half winner, then Barney, with purse replenished, will certainly not remain in circulation long.

If he wins easily, though, and there's a few more good touches to be made, you can rely upon Mr. Bernard Ross, who, outwelterweight champion, to set about making them. As a matter of fact, he has $2,000 "on" to meet Lou Ambers, in the event that Armstrong is knocked off, so you also can depend upon that detail being attended to, promptly and with certitude.

Softball Loops To Meet Tonight
The Junior and Midget softball leagues of New Castle will have a joint session at 8 o'clock at the "Y" tonight with Franklin Crisci, president of the circuits, conducting the meeting.

All junior and midget teams wishing to enter the two proposed leagues will meet at the "Y" at 8 o'clock.

There are five teams in the league at the present time. It is hoped that the sixth team can be secured within a few days. The opening date is May 13. Two games will be played each week, Wednesday and Friday. All games will be seven innings. The league will use paid umpires to be handled by President Alec Samuels.

The following teams will comprise the league: Bessmer, the 1897 champions, South Hills, Wampum, Hillville and the Capitolas. An effort is being made to get either Rose Point or East New Castle to take the open franchise.

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's council will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at West Pittsburg, according to Elmer Brown, secretary. The doc season will be discussed. A large turn-out of members is anticipated.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Yankees Happy Glad Once More

The New York Yankees today are one of the happiest baseball teams in the major leagues. The much depressed Murderers Row club is jubilant because their home run artist has finally decided to give up his "sit down" strike antics and return to the baseball field.

The return of Joe DiMaggio, at $25,000 seems to have started off the spark that is expected to carry the Ruppertmen through to another championship. The McCarthymen have been everything but impressive since the start of the season, not to mention their showing in the training camp circles.

In the ninth inning clutch of the lid after McCarthy showed how much confidence he has by ejecting Joe Gordon, his new second sacker, he pulled Gordon in favor of Knickerbocker, considered a short pants hitter. This shows that even McCarthy doesn't have that certain "umph" but with the bombing blaster back, the Yankees are happier than ever.

The Yankees got seven hits. This is just about DiMaggio's par for the course. The baseball world will now sit back and watch the DiMaggio who batted for nearly two months for the $25,000 offer, asking for $40,000. Then he wound up accepting the club's term.

He is a natural ball player and will, no doubt, resume where he left off. A lad capable of clouting 45 homers and bat 346, isn't purely lucky, as the American league pitchers will tell you. DiMaggio's return closed the perennial "hold-out" program of the major leagues until next spring.

Rocky Start for Shaffer
Lawrence county's Fred Shaffer twirler with the Louisville Colonels of the American Association league got off to a bad start Wednesday afternoon.

The local chicken was sent into the battle in the eighth frame and was picked for four hits in 4 of an inning. The tough part of his debut is that he was choked up with the defeat despite the fact that he hurled less than an inning. Local fans still hold high hopes for the former Lawrence county league pitching sensation.

A customer writes in: I came a note today from "R. L. Jones" who seems destined to replace the famous One Eye Connolly, noted gate crasher. Jones crashed his way into a football uniform during his high school days and did quite well. Then he hopped fences windows and what not to see the greatest sports spectacles of the past few years. His latest gate crash was to see the movie "The Yuma Desert" in Yuma, Ariz. He has card states "he will play in an Arabian scene on the Yuma Desert. Lots of luck!"

TALES IN TIDBITS
By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 22—Suspension of Charley Kutzinger adds a new angle to the 300,000 prize May 30 between War Admiral and Seabiscuit. Does the Admiral pre-empt Kutzinger on his back to beat Seabiscuit? Just as Seabiscuit seems to demand Red Pollard in the pilot house, or else? How important is a jockey to a horse?

Most trackmen will say that a good horse can win with anyone on his back. Horses come to know their jockeys, just as jockeys learn after a couple of rides the qualities of their mounts. Horsemen say the important thing for a jockey to know is how to rate the horse to get the most out of him. Some horses like to take it easy during the first few furlongs and finish with a rush. Others like to go to the front at once.

Just Sits On His Back
War Admiral, they say, is the kind of steady box seat rider, just as Man O'War was a fellow that didn't particularly care who had the reins. All War Admiral needs is restraint. In only one of his races has he come from behind in the home stretch. That was last fall in Maryland, when he had to hustle along over the last furlong to show Alaskan General his place. The Riddle horse runs his own race. Many horses are like that, too—the jockey knows all he has to do is sit.

If War Admiral can't beat Seabiscuit without Kutzinger, some corrections will have to be made in his status. Certainly he cannot be admitted to the select company of great horses if he needs a certain boy on his back. The same, of course, goes for Seabiscuit. They say Seabiscuit might have won the Santa Anita if Pollard had been able to ride. I doubt that. Seabiscuit is too much horse, too, to be particularly concerned about his rider. It must be admitted, though, that Pollard might have kept him out of trouble. That's one angle that will not figure in the big race. With only two horses, there can't be any racing troubles. No pockels. No bumping. Just a horse in front, or a horse alongside, to beat.

Seabiscuit lost twice this year in which Sonny Workman and George Woolf were astride him. It is a question whether Pollard could have done any better than these two, for both gave the Biscuit plenty of ride. Woolf was up when the horse set a new track record at Bay Meadows in his last start. The Howard horse, by the way, is developing into something of a transcendental traveler. Coming from California to New York for the match race, he will no right back to the Pacific coast for the $50,000 Hollywood race at the new Englewood course in June. The hose will come past again for the late summer and fall fixtures.

Approach Sun Beau's Record
Either Seabiscuit or War Admiral may surpass the all-time money winning total of Sun Beau this year. Sun Beau's earnings, now at the top of the list, were $378,744. Seabiscuit has won approximately $230,000 to War Admiral's $230,000 to date. After the match race, each will compete in four or five rich stake races.

Second to Sun Beau now is Equipoise with $338,610. Giant Fox won $328,165. Zev is on the list with $314,639. The only other horse having won more than $300,000 is Alate, with earnings of $301,810.

Coach Andy "Cooks" Venditto of the Keystone A. C. basketball team, Beaver Valley league champion, has called an important meeting for all of the players Sunday at 2 o'clock at the club rooms.

The Keys will have their pictures taken Sunday and will get measured for either sweaters or jackets. The following list of players will get awards: Paul Morrison, Nickle Gennock, Joe Cooper, Joe Kelley, Pop Adams, Tim Hutchinson, Joe Niro, Blackie Nocera, Yungie Gullacher, Sam Bullock, John Teplica, Coast Venditto, Glenn Beinease and Business Manager Rocco P. Vignano.

Davis J. Walsh thinks Barney Ross will retire after fight with Henry Armstrong to engage in department store business.

Pirates Take Three In Row From Cardinals

Pittsburgh In First Place, Giants Win With Hubbell In Box

INDIANS DEFEAT ST. LOUIS TEAM

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 22—Stop right this way folks and meet Forrest Presnell, Findlay, Ohio's star to the fans of Brooklyn.

You might as well become acquainted now for, judging by his work in shutting out the Phillies 9 to 0 yesterday, you are going to hear him mentioned often this summer. Now shuttling out the Phillies at any time isn't the easiest stunt in the world, but what's making them in their own little pandemonium, after a pop fly over the second baseman's head means a home run, indicates the young man must have something.

To be specific, what he has is a fast ball with a nice hop on it, good control, a fair curve and plenty of change of pace. Pitchers have been far on less equipment than that. It's a little too early to shout any praises over the Dodgers, but they do seem to have added lots of power this year and if they are going to get any such pitching as young Mr. Presnell showed the Phillies, they may make some good use of it.

Pirates Top Cards
And speaking of pitching did you notice what those aged-on-wood was, Hubbell and Derringer, did to the Bees and Cubs? The old Giant maestro moved along in his usual smooth move-along form to beat the Bees, 3-2, with some help from a Leiber home run, and Derringer trimmed Carlson and the Cubs 6-2, while giving only four hits, one of which was a homer by Ken O'Dea.

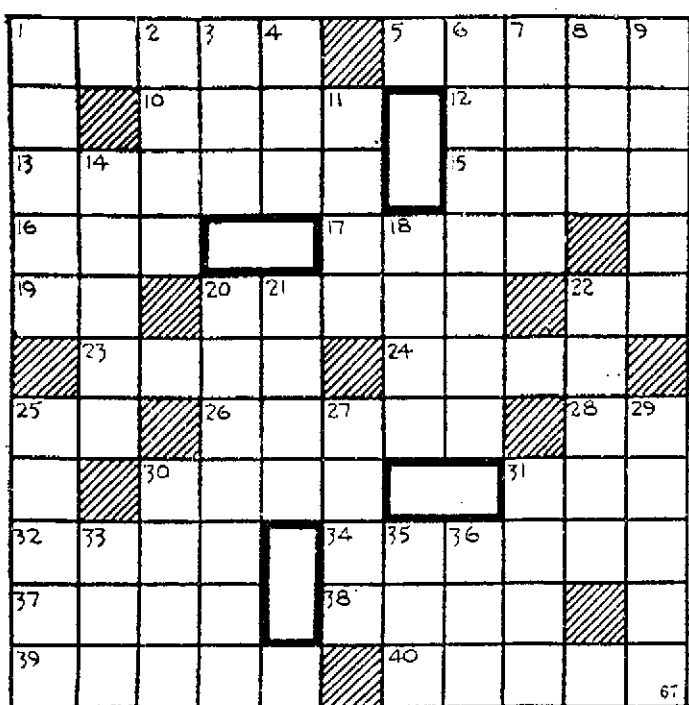

Then the Cards lost Dizzy Dean. Then they lost Joe McGraw via a one back and yesterday they lost Pepper Martin and another ball game to the Pirates, 6-5. While the Pirates were slugging three homers to gain undisputed possession of the league lead, Pepper was on his way home to see his sick daughter.

Yanks Are Defeated
At that, the Cards hardly miss those three more than the Yanks miss Joe DiMaggio. They got 13 hits off Johnny Marcano but wound up on the short end of a 3-2 decision. And this despite the fact that the Sox got but three hits off Rockie Aley Dugan. However, the young man dug his own grave with eight pokes and a hit batter.

Earl Wrennall, the Indians veteran catcher, opened his 15th American League season by trimming the Browns, 4-3, and the Tigers finally won a game when Eddo Auker let the White Sox down with seven hits to win 9-3. Incidentally, Hank Greenberg took advantage of Dimaggio's absence by beat another homer, and also the New York bomber something to shoot at when he saunters into action in the next few days.

Candlelight Is Presented

Civic Theatre Guild Performers In Excellent Performance Thursday

TO REPEAT SHOW
THIS EVENING

Sponsored by the Elks Club, the Civic Theatre Guild presented "Candlelight" a comedy by Siegfried Geyer, in the senior high school auditorium Thursday night.

Like other presentations of the Civic Theatre Guild, this was done intelligently and entertainingly.
That goes for the cast out on the stage, and the unseen artists back of the stage who are seen by their work but not heard, the technicians.

"Candlelight" is a light comedy, which stems from the often used theme of mistaken identity. A valet is mistaken for his master the prince by a chambermaid, who in turn is mistaken for her mistress a baroness.
The chain of events leading up to the identification is amusing and in the hands of the Guild players was well done but never overplayed.
The play goes on again tonight.
The purpose back of it is to aid the convention fund for the Elks Club, in itself reason enough to see the play. But beyond that is the fact that the cast really does a fine job and you may be sure of an evening's entertainment.

Hear Collins At Insurance Rally

New Yorker Speaks Before 80 Underwriters At Hotel Luncheon

Approximately 80 agents from all over this district yesterday heard
P. A. Collins, New York, supervisor of field education and sales promotion for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, deliver an inspiring address yesterday at The Castillon on "Why Organized Talks and Sales Methods?"

Mr. Collins spoke at a luncheon meeting of the New Castle branch of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters association. William J. Stafford, manager of the Metropolitan office here and president of the group presided.

Executive Secretary Edward M.
Aiken of the Pittsburgh Life group from Pittsburgh was present and spoke briefly. He told his audience of the plans for the observance of Life Insurance Week from May 9 to 14.

Singing at the luncheon was led by Samuel Lewis and Brinley Hughes with Judy Sypher at the piano.

Guests attended the meeting from Ellwood City, Beaver Falls and Sharon.

Mr. Collins, the noon speaker here, last night spoke to Butler life underwriters on the same subject he discussed here. He spoke in the Willard hotel there.

BITTEN BY DOG

Mary Louise Dorsey, a small girl, who resides at Lincoln avenue and North Beaver street, was bitten on the upper lip by a neighbor's dog yesterday. It was reported to police.
She was playing with the dog while she was on the Brink family's porch. The dog was tied when she was bitten. A physician attended to the wound.

Berlin Awaits Annual Congress Of Entomologists

(International News Service)
BERLIN—Experts from 46 countries are to attend the Seventh International Entomological Congress at Berlin this summer. Altogether, some 700 experts on insect research will be present for the meeting, which is scheduled to run from August 15 to 20.

These experts are for the most part specialists in some particular branch of this subject, for it is estimated that it would take an entomologist the first 120 years of his life to get acquainted with the 600-000 types of insects already catalogued, working about half an hour on each specimen and eight hours a day throughout the year.

Some 100,000 types of butterflies and 240,000 types of beetles are already known and so far only a quarter of the insects now living on the earth have been docketed by scientists. Probably about 90 per cent of the research work on entomology is carried out as a leisure-time hobby by men with other activities during business hours.

POISONA CHORUS

The Pomona Chorus will meet on Monday evening, April 25, at the East Brook garage. It is expected that there will be a good attendance at this meeting.

Bullet-Proof Vest Worn By Hitler In Vienna

(International News Service)
PARIS—During his triumphal visit to Vienna following German occupation of Austria, Adolph Hitler wore a bullet-proof vest under the brown shirt symbolic of Nazi military might.

According to the Paris weekly
"Aux Eclaires" the Fuehrer never took off this light armor—protection against the possibility that Austrians were not willing to "give way before terror."

ceptions the warm weather forced the German dictator to unbutton his coat and many were surprised to see the outlines of the metal vest under his shirt.

"Nothing is more natural than for a man of state of the importance of our Fuehrer to safeguard his personal security," a Nazi district leader explained to inquisitive newsmen. "Besides," he went on,
"Bismarck also wore a metal vest.
That is why he was called the Iron Chancellor."

Correct This Sentence: "I'll have company this afternoon," said she,
"but I'm too tired to clean up the house."

Business fact in a recession:

the customer to pay in advance "to save bookkeeping."

Cap Pistols Are Ruled Illegal In Louisville Texas Youths

(International News Service)
LOUISVILLE, Ky.—It was a sad day for the boys of Louisville when the police department dug up an old law which labeled cap pistols contraband, and ordered them from the shelves of retailers.

Director of Safety Sam McMeekin said he was issuing the warning.
Holding up an order while asking the customer to pay in advance "to save bookkeeping."

Launch 'Rain Escort Bureau'

(International News Service)
DALLAS, Tex.—George Kaub and Billy Lindsey, Dallas high school students, are going to make a name for themselves in the business world one of these days.

The boys have a rain escort bureau in a year to bring sad numblings (au) becoming needy at a local bus stop. They provide umbrellas to keep the rain off and themselves as company, to any woman afraid of getting any new spring banner wet in the city's occasional and sudden rainstorms.

Following the traditional business principle of "charge all the traffic will bear," they got only three cents a block during a light rain—but five cents a block if it comes down in sheets.

Half-way measures will get us nowhere. Let's give business men every possible help, so they can employ everybody, or abolish the profit system and let the government run everything.

Democratic rules have high principle and no convictions. Fascist rules have convictions and no principle.
